Trial of Ellis Young.

In the Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne Co.

COMMONWEALTH vs. ELLIS YOUNG. } Indictment — charging the murder of Stewart C. Robison. Before Rice, Prest Judge, Sept. 16, 1891, case called at 4.30 p. m.

Mr. Darte District Atty., Mr. McCartney and Mr. James L. Lenahan, for the Commonwealth.

Mr. John G. Freeze, Mr. John T. Lenahan, for the Deft.

A jury was obtained at 11.45 on Thursday the 17th, and was as follows: Richard Jordan, William Claring, Daniel L. Davis, Samuel J. Morgan, James Brennan, M. J. Tigre, Roger McGarry, Wm. Bittenbender, Philip Cragle, Morgan Boyle, Soloman Hirsch, James M. Bolland.

James L. Lenahan Esq., opened for the Commonwealth, and the Dist. Atty. called Dr. John F. Chapin, who testified to having been called to attend Robison on the 31st of July, 1864, between 12 and 2 o'clock at night. He found him at Peter Laubauch's wagon shed, wounded on the right side, with 3 wounds, two in the inguinal region and one a little above, not quite a triangle — punctured wounds and seemed as if made with ball or buckshot, and he supposed them to be gun shot wounds. Robison was moved from there to Samuel Krickbaum's, and from there to Harvey's at Harveyville. Subsequently peritonitis set in and after some time an abscess formed upon the opposite side near the backbone which was lanced. Dr. Chapin gave it as his opinion that the death was caused by peritonitis, induced by the wounds. Robison died Nov. 3, 1864.

Capt. Robison, brother of the deceased testified to the date of shooting and of death and the nature of the wounds, &c.

Wm. Montgomery, testified to seeing the wounds, to the removal to Harvey's and to the abscess. He also testified that on handling the body after death a buckshot dropped from the body to the floor, that he picked it up, that it was slightly flattened, that he gave it to Mr. Harvey who gave it to Dr. Barrett, the attending physician, now dead.

Charles Dodson testified he was at the shooting, that they met at Fairmount Springs, that the party there was Solomon Taylor, Stewart Robison, Russel Buckalew, Isaac Harrison, Robert Montgomery, Eli Buckalew, Chas Dodson; that Taylor and Robison are dead and the others in attendance; that they were mounted and proceeded to Dyer Moss' and there they were joined by James Seward, and Philander Harrington and Dyer Moss. From Moss' they went to Raven Creek, visited Silas Karnes' house and from there to Jos. Hess' house and from there to Tom Smith's house. (Four or five) Dodson, Taylor, Eli and Russell Buckalew surrounded the house, Smith got out and got away from them, they went back to where they had left the horses, heard a party coming towards them, Robison, Buckalew and Dodson stood on right side of road, Taylor, and others on the other side. Three men came up to within 12 or 15 feet. Robison says "halt," Taylor says "no firing, no firing." The men fired three shots right at us. The men ran, Russell Buckalew and Dodson followed them, that he saw no signals, but that after they got to Smith's house, a horn was blowed, nothing else.

Cross-examined he said that he left home before sundown, that he had no weapon then but went back home and got one, that Russel Buckalew, Robison, Taylor and witness Dodson had an arrangement to meet there, that they went by Moss' and by his, Dodson's, where he got his revolver, and that all the party was armed, that 6 of them surrounded Smith's house, that he did not see Smith, but heard something in the cornfield, that he, Dodson, had a six chambered revolver and that he fired five of them.

Isaac Harrison testified that he was with the party, that he saw lights, that he heard some one hollow. That was all until the firing, that he was holding the horses, could not tell who fired first, that there were seven of them and that Robison was wounded.

Cross-examined, he said that he got to Fairmount about 5 o'clock in the evening, that Robison and Taylor and Buckalew were there, that Dodson came afterward and that they met by arrangement, that R. Montgomery joined at Moss', and Seward and Harrington met by arrangement. Went to Silasa Krnes' house and some of the party dismounted, would not say they did not surround the house; proceeded to Jos. Hess', and thence to Tom Smith's house, came back in 15 minutes and started toward Aaron Smith's. Everything was then quiet, firing was 10 to 15 minutes after. I only heard the voices, I could not see. It was pretty dark, could not see 10 or 15 rods. I cant tell but I think I heard 10 or 12 shots about all at once. Can't remember that the party went by Dodson's.

Robert Montgomery testified that he was with the party, joined at Moss' and at shooting, was with the horses, saw two reddish lights. After coming from towards Tom Smith's they walked the other way, then in 10 or 15 minutes the shooting. I could not see the flashes, might have been 20 shots.

Cross-examined he said that he went at the request of Buckalew, that he did not know the party, that they visited 3 houses before they went to Smith's, that he guesses they went in but he was not looking, that he heard people making a racket talking in a high tone.

Russell Buckalew testified that he was present at the shooting, that at Tom Smith's house were rockets and a horn, thinks he did not get quite to the house, heard parties running across an old saw-mill, that he saw only a female form at T. Smith's, next heard parties on the other road, made threats to shoot the sons of bitches, were making a great racket, that the party that did the shooting came up from Aaron Smith's, did not make much noise, came with the threats, their shooting was just all at once, it was just like one report, one flash. We jumped after them, they went back towards Aaron Smith's.

Cross-examined he said he was with the party at Fairmount, denied that he was there by arrangement, said that Smith's was the first house they stopped at, then that they stopped at some other house, thought two, rapped at the door, that he did not get quite to Smith's house, that somebody ran out, that he saw a man jump out, and that Dodson and he were together, returned to the horses, stood there, heard a racket, when the party was over on the other side of the creek he heard the swearing, that they did not start towards the place the threats were coming, went 3 or 4 rods down the road, were standing still as the Smith party was coming up, went to the side of the road, they came up, Robison called "halt" the shots came as one, admitted that he had a horse pistol, that he took it to use if it was necessary, could not tell who gave it to him, that it was not his and that he fired several shots.

On re-examination said the party coming up did the first firing. We all had revolvers, I think Robison or Taylor gave me the pistol.

Richard C. Smith testified that he saw Young on the evening of the shooting near Miner Smith's, that that night he heard him at the house of his, witness' father, Aaron Smith, that he heard a noise which wakened him, and his name called by Ellis Young. He said, "Hello Rich., is your gun loaded, they are after Tommy." The witness asked where Tommy was. Thomas Smith answered "I am here." They started up the road, in 10 or 15 minutes I heard shooting, heard the whiz of bullets, two or three men ran towards our house, that was all I heard till morning. In the morning I found the gun in the barnyard; that he saw Young next morning about 10 o'clock and he said he had our gun and was present at the shooting and saw his man fall, and he put his hand in his pocket and took out buck-shot and slugs and he showed how he loaded his gun. The gun was not loaded when I found it.

Cross-examined he said, father, mother and brother were in the house, father and mother down stairs; was 10 or 11 o'clock when he went to bed. Heard noise in kitchen, father was awake and mother I think. Thought he could distinguish Young, said "Rich is your gun loaded?" No, sir." "They are after Tommy." "Where is Tommy?" "Here I am" Tommy said. Knew Young 2 years and saw him that evening. I told this story to Washington Knouse, did not know he was an enemy of Young till after I told him, did not tell it for 20 years, did not tell him that my uncles Miner Smith and Tommy Smith were accused of the shooting, he knew that, I did not tell him if we could put it on Young they would be cleared.

Mary E. Brink testified to being at Miner Smith's that night, that she knew Young, that he was there courting her and was with her all the evening, that there was an alarm, a bell or a horn towards Tommy Smith's, that Young and Miner started in the direction of the alarm. 20 minutes after Young and Miner left I heard the reports of guns, saw the flash.

Cross-examined she said Miner Smith was not in the country, that Tom Smith was her uncle and Richard her cousin and that she was related by marriage to Charles Dodson, and that her maiden name was Lutz. That Young and Miner were unarmed when they went away.

Thomas Smith testified that on the night of the shooting he was in bed with his wife, that about 11 o'clock the dog made an alarm, that he got up dressed himself and heard footsteps coming down the lane, and that he got out of the window and his wife handed him his gun, a heavy rifle, loaded. That he ran across the brook and fields towards a strip of woods and accidentally met his brother Miner Smith and Young. Miner had a gun, Young unarmed. That witness said he was going to the woods, as he was away from them. Nothing said about draft, that Young said "Let's go back and see what is going on," witness said "No," Young said "Come back, don't be a coward," that they went to Aaron Smith's, that witness sat on fence, Miner stood in the road, Young went into the house. Heard Young come out, was dark, could not see; Young asked Rich. if his gun was loaded. When Young came out he had the gun. We went down the road to my home, everything perfectly still, were halted. They said "Halt! lay down your arms," some one said "Fire," I think Young. I fired and ran, jumped the fence and ran into a piece of woods and lay there all night. Had no talk with Young about the shooting then or any time.

Cross-examined he said that he was a brother of Miner and Uncle of Richard, that Miner had been in Canada, did not know where he was now. That he did not know who was after him, that at Aaron's, Young went into the house, that he could not see Young nor Richard, that it was too dark, that on being halted he fired, they all fired, and the other firing was very quick.

Being recalled in chief he identified the rifles.

Cross-examined he said, was a dark night, pretty dark, did not see Miner till we met. He had a gun, I only say he had this gun because he owned this gun.

And on further cross-examination denied that he had any conversation with John J. McHenry about the shooting.

Richard Hess testified that he saw Young the next morning after the shooting, at the Jackson church, about six miles from Aaron Smith's, that Young said the soldiers, the Dodson party, made a raid last night, that he and Miner and Tommy Smith were together, near Aaron Smith's in public road, that they were halted, all fired, other party fired and that one man fell back across the road from where he stood.

Cross-examined he said he went to the Jackson church on Saturday, could not tell whether he staid at Daniel Young's or where he staid, nor when he left nor who he went to visit, was not sure that he saw Daniel Young, thought he went to visit Daniel Young, was not certain that he saw Daniel, could not tell whose house he slept in nor any one he saw, nor for sure where he took breakfast, nor when he went to church, nor if there was a sermon, nor who preached if there was one, thinks the talk was before church, and that he had dinner after church but not sure, that he told the story to Bacon Hess, and that he is related to Lutz, the prosecutor in this case.

Samuel Kanouse testified that 1 or 2 weeks after the shooting Young wanted him to go along with him to a certain spring, and going along the way Young showed him the balls he had loaded with, said they had chased him from Miner Smith's, did not say who it was nor nothing about it, said the Smith boys and himself were the party. Left him at spring.

Cross examined said he was 16 years old at the time, that 13 years ago he had a difference with Young, that they had been on the outs for last 6 years. We went to the spring about 10 or 11 o'clock, can't tell what we talked about except that. He said they were after him. The witness told the story to Washington Kanouse about 4 years after, and to Alexander Kanouse about 8 or 10 years after, and to others, and to Lutz last March, and that he had heard that his brother Washington Kanouse and Young were enemies.

Commonwealth rests:

The defense opens and calls

Ellis Young, who testified that he lived in Columbia county, was born there and was about 53 years of age, was a married man and had one son. That on the night of the shooting he was at Miner Smith's, and had gone there by appointment with Miss Mary Lutz, whom he had been paying attention for a year or more. That he was with her all the evening. That sometime about midnight he heard a horn blow and a woman scream in the direction of Tommy Smith's, that Miner was in bed but got up and took his gun, and they started in the direction of Tommy Smith's, that they got to Aaron Smith's house and that Tommy came to them there, and not in the field. That he did not go into Aaron Smith's house nor have the talk which Richard testified to. That Miner Smith gave witness his gun to go home with, and got the gun at Aaron's, and that witness did not. That the three, Miner, Tommy and witness started along the road in the direction of Tommy Smith's house which was also the home road of the witness. That everything was quiet until they were stopped by the Robison party crying "halt," that he fell back three or four steps, and the firing commenced. That he thought the Robison party fired first, and that as much as 5 or 6 shots had been fired when he flung the gun off of his shoulder and fired, that he saw nobody when he fired, and as soon as he fired he ran back along the road, jumped over the fence, got into a piece of woods, and lay down there till morning. That he did not see either of the Smiths for sometime after and did not hear any one had been shot until the Wednesday or Thursday following. That he did not see Richard Smith the next morning about 10 o'clock nor at any time, and did not have the conversation detailed by him. That he did not see nor tell Richard Hess the story related by him, nor did he even tell Samuel Kanouse the story testified to by him. That he had never left the county on account of the shooting but had been logging on the West branch and with a sick brother in the west who died there, when he had returned home and had been here ever since.

Cross examined he said he was at the shooting, had Miner's gun, a rifle, that he fired after the rest, and ran off into the woods, that he remained at home 6 weeks or 2 months then went up to Centre county with others to lumber, that in January 1865 he went west and stayed with a brother 1 year and five days, then came east, and stopped in Michigan about 5 months and then, August 3, 1866 returned to Columbia county, where he had been ever since.

John J. McHenry testified that he remembered of the shooting, that the Smith's left after the shooting, and upon the return of Tommy in 1867, he talked with the witness about it. He said Tommy told him he had got tired of being harrassed and driven about from pillar to post, that on the night of the shooting the gun he had was loaded with a ball and three buckshot, that they all fired and ran and that he staid in the woods all night.

Cross-examined he said he had never told this to anybody, that Tommy had given him this in confidence and he would not violate it, and that it was only the present circumstances that induced him to tell it now.

Charles Hartman testified that he lived 6 or 8 miles from the place of the shooting, and that Ellis Young came to his house on Sunday between 10 and 11 o'clock and took dinner with him. That he did not know of the shooting and did not hear of it for several days, Wednesday or Thursday after.

Philip Creasy, Henry Shaffer, Rohr McHenry, Lewis Creveling, Abijah Hess, Benton Cole, Abram Kline, Charles Hartman testified to the good character of Young.

Defense rested.

At 5 o'clock Judge Rice began his charge to the jury. After some preliminary remarks, and defining the different grades of murder, and manslaughter, he said in substance:

It is the duty of the jury to decide first whether the deceased came to his death from the gun-shot wound.

It is not necessary to prove that the defendant fired the fatal shot. If he was in the crowd from which the shots were fired, and aided and abetted them, he is responsible, even though the bullet from his gun did not inflict the wound. Should the jury find that the defendant aided and abetted as above mentioned, they must then inquire into the circumstances attending the commission of the crime.

Referring to the plea of self defense advanced by the defendant's counsel, the judge said that every man has the right to defend his life or property against grievous harm at the hands of another. There is no testimony in the case to show that Robison or his party had any authority to surround the house of Thomas Smith or any of the others. But conceding this it did not justify the defendant in taking up the quarrel and inflicting punishment on any of the party. His habitation was not attacked and he had no natural interest in the matter whatever. Was the defendant in danger of his life when the crime was committed? The testimony of Young shows that when he heard the horn blown at Smith's house he went to Miner Smith's house and got Smith's gun and started down the road home. When he came upon the other party there was shooting. The others, he said, shot first, and then he shot. If this story be true it would seem to furnish a good case of self defense. The Commonwealth, however, present a different allegation of facts. Their testimony shows that as soon as Robison called "Halt!" Young and his party opened fire, the reports coming like a single flash, to use the language of one of the witnesses. A principle in the law of self-defense is that the danger itself must not be sought. The jury must decide whether Young and his party intended to meet the others when they came up the road from Aaron Smith's house. If as is sworn to by some of the witnesses, Young called Smith back from the woods, said "Let's go up, don't be a coward," it would in a measure indicate that the danger was sought and could have been avoided if necessary. If, however, he had reason to believe that he was in grave danger, and that there was no means of escape, he would be entitled to the benefit of a plea of self-defense.

The jury retired at 5:45 and after being out nearly four hours, sent in word that they had agreed. At 9:45 the clerk took the verdict which was as follows: "We find Ellis Young not guilty of any crime charged in the indictment."

ELLIS YOUNG.

Since the arrest of Ellis Young the following appeared in the Mountain Echo, viz; "The arrest of Ellis Young seems to have stirred the Fishingcreek confederacy to the very core and the well meaning people of that locality are likely to get their foot in it again as they did before."

Since the trial and acquittal of Mr. Young, the now wiser Echo man may have learned that under the civil law a democrat has recognition as well as a republican. That under the civil law there are two sides to every question, whereas, under military, despotic and arbitrary misrule there is but one. Now as the light was turned on the so called Fishingcreek confederacy the Echo man "got his foot in it" and not the "well meaning people of that locality." Try again F. M. Lutz, Echo man and Co.

WATSON.

In the issue of March 20th 1891, THE COLUMBIAN contained an article announcing the arrest of Ellis Young, and briefly stated the facts of the case, saying that Lieut. Robinson and his party had no authority to arrest any one at the time of the shooting. This statement was met by the Republican in a very wrathful manner, charging us with "apologizing for crime" and characterizing the shooting as a "base murder." The article was calculated to inflame passion and excite prejudice against Ellis Young. In replying, THE COLUMBIAN said "The trial of the case will show which is right."

We are informed that Judge Rice, a republican, in his charge to the jury stated in substance just what THE COLUMBIAN said in the article above referred to. Will the Republican charge Judge Rice with "apologizing for crime" because the editor of that paper failed in his desire to have Ellis Young hanged?

This is not the first time that the editor of the Republican has been mistaken in his prediction of what was going to happen in court. The Bloomsburg School Board case in which he slanderously attacked the court, the counsel, and every body else who had a hand in ousting him and others from the board, is still well remembered, as is also his prediction of the "triumphant vindication" that awaited him in the Supreme Court. The vindication never came, and the opinion of that court deciding against him, is one of the most terse and scathing on record.

The trial of the Young case is over, and it has proven that our statements of the case at the time of the arrest were perfectly correct.

If Young had been tried in Columbia county and acquitted, there would have been a republican howl that prejudice and local feeling had procured his acquittal. But he was tried in a foreign county, before a strange jury, in a court whose sheriff was brother of the deceased, and who managed the trial and faced the jury: but he was even there found to be "not guilty."

A fifteen cent luncheon will be served on Friday evening, September 25th from 5 to 9 o'clock under the direction of St. Paul's Sunday School classes of the Misses Drinker, in Hendershott's store room, next door to Gilmore's.

PERSONAL.

Charles E. Howe was in Philadelphia last week.

C. B. Robbins went to Philadelphia on Tuesday.

Charles P. Elwell returned to Boston last week.

H. Bruce Clark was in New York this week, buying goods.

Miss A. D. Webb has been visiting friends in town the past week.

Robert, and Mrs. J. McBride spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Benton.

J. W. Perry of Elk Grove Hotel went to New Jersey on Monday to spend a couple of weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sterner lost an infant, aged nine months, last week. It was buried on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Peacock entertained thirty of their friends on Wednesday night. It was a very enjoyable occasion.

L. S. Wintersteen, C. C. Peacock, J. C. Brown and H. D. Edgar attended the convention of Republican clubs at Scranton on Wednesday.

C. E. Rice, Al. Derr, Dr. Gwinner and C. M. Creveling went to Philadelphia on Tuesday to buy a fast horse, but as somebody else bid $1500 for it, they didn't get it.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lutz are visiting their relatives here. It is twelve years since Mr. Lutz has been in Bloomsburg, and Mrs. Lutz has been here but once in that time. They notice many changes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brower passed the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, their Golden Wedding, on Wednesday. Comparatively few people live to celebrate such an occasion.

A NEW FACTORY.

Another manufacturing enterprise is to be established in Bloomsburg. W. H. Schuyler, Theodore Redeker and J. E. Kiefer of Hughesville, propose to put up a furniture factory that will employ thirty to forty men. A site has been donated by the Land Improvement Company, consisting of ten lots on Seventh street, in the addition to the town, facing on the D. L. & W. R. R., between Spruce and Locust streets. Two brick buildings will be erected, two stories high, each 100 feet long and 50 feet wide, and an engine house 20x30 feet. A loan of $20,000 will be made, which will be secured by bonds and mortgage on the plant, the bonds to be at 6 per cent, and to be guaranteed by the Land Improvement Company. Work on the buildings will begin at once, and it is expected that they will be completed by December 1st.

The parties interested in this enterprise are practical men with long experience in the furniture business. They will employ skilled labor mostly. The necessary amount of money is nearly all subscribed.

MIFFLINVILLE.

A. W. Snyder has improved the appearance of his store by a new glass front.

Hurrah for "Junius Jr." He gives us solid facts, hits the nail squarely on the head every time, and hard. Hit him again, J. J.

J. C. Brown of Bloomsburg, visited his mother on Sunday.

We are to be favored with a resident butcher, as C. E. Hartman has moved to town, and expects to engage in that business.

One morning last week a wreck occured here in front of the depot, doing considerable of damage. The fog being so dense the signal could not be seen.

A number of our people attended the funeral of George Kiefer in Main township, on Monday.

A child of Mr. R. Neyhart of Philadelphia was buried here last week.

Mrs. S. B. Hendershot and son of New Philadelphia, Ill. are visiting their parents, A. Sweppenhiser.

Samuel Fedder has given up his job on the railroad, and expects to try farming in Beaver township.

A report was circulated on Wednesday that William Snyder, son of C. W. Snyder deceased, is ill with typhoid fever in Salt Lake City, and that his physicians had given up all hope of his recovery. His relatives here have no such information, and it is possible there may be a mistake about it.

A new roof has been put on the Baptist church, and a vestibule built in front. While the roof was off, the rain damaged the walls so that it is necessary to repaper them. Vanatta has the contract. The church will be greatly improved when completed.

WHICH ONE?

One of us, dear—
But one—
Will sit by a bed with a marvelous face,
And clasp a hand,
Growing cold as it feels for the spirit land—
Darling, which one?

One of us, dear—
But one—
Will stand by the other's coffin bier,
And look and weep,
While those marble lips strange silence keep,
Darling, which one?

One of us, dear—
But one—
By an open grave will drop a tear,
And homeward go,
The anguish of an unshared grief to know—
Darling, which one?

One of us, darling, it must be;
It may be you will slip from me;
Or perhaps my life may just be done,
Which one?

—Old Song.

A STORY OF NEW YORK.

SATURDAY NIGHT IN HESTER STREET.

I stood under a lamp post on Hester street, watching the overtired children as they fell asleep while sitting on the steps, the men as they smoked and rested, the women as they dragged themselves wearily along and purchased a bit here and a bit there to stock the family cupboard for Sunday. On Canal—on Grand, along the Bowery—in Chatham Square, men and women are laughing in good nature as they elbow each other and throng the stores to purchase ornaments and luxuries. Here men and women are sullen and silent, many of them wondering where the barest necessities are to come from.

"If you won't help me we shall have to go hungry to-morrow!"

It was a little old woman who had approached so softly that I did not hear her—a little old woman with hair almost white, with face wrinkled and pinched, with such an anxious look on her countenance as one might wear in asking a judge to spare the life of her child. She was bareheaded, her dress old and faded and mended—one of the thousands of God's worms who creep and crawl and live and die and are forgotten in a day in great New York.

"Where do you live?" I asked.

She pointed to a four story tenement almost opposite.

"Top floor?"

She nodded her head.

"Any family?"

"A sick husband and four children, sir."

"Very well; lead on and I will follow."

"You'll—you'll come up with me?" she queried, in surprise.

"I will—lead on."

She kept looking back, and there was a puzzled expression on her face. In the dark lower hall we stepped over two sleeping men and a child. At the head of the stairs a man sat, brooding and sulking, and grudgingly gave us room to pass. There was a dim light in the second hall, where a half drunken woman was seeking her room. The two above were dark, and the little old woman went ahead and kept saying:

"This way—that's a child—keep to the rail—don't fear the dog—we're almost up."

And as we reached the upper hall we turned to the right, passed down a blind hall running the other way, and presently she pushed open a door and we entered a room lighted by a smoking lamp.

"John, children, it's a stranger come to see us, said the woman as I stood and looked about.

Here were two small rooms, three chairs, a cupboard, an old table, a wretched bedstead, and more wretched bedding, on which lay a man. Across the room was a mattress on which the children were lying as I entered. In the other room I saw a stove, a washtub, and a bucket of coal.

"Sit down, sir," said the woman as she placed a chair.

The husband looked to be 50 years old. He had the bright eyes and hollow cheeks of a consumptive and his hands were white and thin.

"Are you a doctor?" he asked as I sat down.

"No."

"The rent is overdue, but we haven't even bread to eat," he said.

"I am not your landlord nor his agent. I simply came up to see you—to see if you were sick—to see what you needed."

He looked at his wife in a wondering way, and the four children drew softly away into the other room as if fearful that something was about to happen. The wife eyed me in a strange way, too, but replied to him with:

"John, you know how it is with us. I asked him on the street for money to buy bread, and he's come up to—to——"

"To see if you were really in need of help," I said as she paused. "Have any of you had supper?"

"Just a crust for him, sir, but nothing for the rest, and but for you the children would be crying with hunger."

"Very well. I'll mind the house while you go out. Get bread, butter, tea, milk, sugar, potatoes, and meat."

"You—you don't mean it!" she gasped.

The man in bed rose up on his elbow to get a better look at me, and I saw something like alarm in his face. To quiet him I said:

"The case is clear enough. You used to get along all right, but sickness came—you could no longer work; you have reached your last penny. Why shouldn't I help you a bit?"

"It's sadly enough we need it, God knows, but—but——"

"But you can't make out why I came up here?"

"No, sir."

"Well, don't worry about it. Queer things are always happening to all of us. How long have you been ill?"

"Over a year, sir."

"And how have you lived?"

"By using the few dollars I had put by and by selling whatever we could spare, until we are as you see us. I once earned my $3 a day, sir, and no poor man's family was better cared for."

"And to-day you were penniless and hungry?"

"Aye, sir, and as I laid here I'd have cut my throat if I had a knife. When I thought of the thousands buying what they pleased, of the riches in great New York and us wanting for dry bread, I had some bad thoughts in my mind, sir. I felt that I could rob and murder if I could only leave my bed. I wondered if there was a God and a hereafter. I wanted poison for all of us, that we might die together, and as the wife went out to beg for us and I lay here I was planning on how to kill myself before she came back."

By and by, as we talked, the mother and children returned. I heard the latter shouting, even on the lower stairs. Each had a load, and the wife returned after a lamp, a bottle of wine, and some other things. Poor soul! She was laughing and crying by turns, and to have seen those forlorn children sit down on the floor and eat the dry bread as famishing wolves devour their prey was something to pain your heart.

"It's real meat, John," said the woman, as she came to his bedside—"real meat, and real potatoes, and real sugar and tea, and there is a God, after all!"

"Yes, there is a God, Mary," he whispered, as he wept."

And while I sat there the wife cooked supper and the hunger of all was satisfied, and the two smaller children afterward knelt at the bedside and repeated the Lord's Prayer and were asleep three minutes later.

I never meet vice and wickedness in the slums without feeling to pity instead of to condemn. They who dwell up there in those dark and cheerless rooms, who feel the pangs of hunger, who find despair crowding every other feeling out of the heart—who sometimes raise the sash and leap out and gladly go to death on the flagstones, they can be forgiven for much. The wheel of Time has ever kept turning the wrong way for them.

It was only a drop, only a little ray of hope shining through the darkness and gloom of their poverty and despair, but to have caught that one ray filled them with new strength to battle in the future, and I had touched elbows with still another phase of humanity.—M. Quad.

Drying Bananas for Shipment.

Drying bananas for shipment has been tested in Trinidad, West Indies, with marked success. A report received by the bureau of American republics at Washington sets forth that the cost of producing a bunch of bananas weighing 52 pounds, including the purchase of land, clearing, draining, planting, weeding, cutting, drying, fuel, boxes, and packing for market would average only 53 cents. The fruit in drying loses one-third of its weight. When dried it sells readily at 16 cents a pound. Allowing for the loss of weight this would yield $2.76 a bunch—a clear profit for the grower of $2.19. An order for several hundredweight of the dried fruit at 6d. (12 cents) a pound for the London market has been received at Trinidad. Even at this price a handsome profit would be realized. An actual sale of nearly a hundred boxes of the dried fruit has recently been made in Canada at 20 cents a pound, and the Canadians are asking for more at the same price. Deducting freight charges the net price was 16 cents. The variety of banana which yields the best result is said to be the "Gross Michael." Over 100,000 plants have been distributed in Trinidad and Tobago within the last two years. The purchasers were principally large planters, and there is every indication that the industry will be pursued on an extensive scale, and that dried bananas will soon be an important item in the commerce of the West Indies.

The Marble Map of Rome.

It was known several centuries ago that on the facade of one of the municipal buildings erected by the Emperor Augustus, of Rome, was affixed a great marble slab, on which the map of Rome, with all its streets, temples, public buildings, and gardens were traced in deeply indented lines. A large part of this map was dug up during excavations made on the site of the forum of Augustus many years ago, and 25 more fragments of this marble plan of Rome have just been found in the excavations for the works of the Tiber embankment on the other side of Rome and across the river. The story of how these fragments got so far away from the ruins to which they originally belonged is a curious one.

In the sixteenth century, during the reign of Pope Paul III, excavations were commenced near the site of the wall on which the plan was known to have been affixed, and a good many fragments of the marble plaque were found, of which those considered the most important were given to the municipal authorities, and the smaller bits (then deemed worthless, but beyond price to the skilled and patient archæologists of to-day) were cast into a heap of building materials, comprising, doubtless, many other precious fragments of marble, and were eventually built into the walls of the old Alfieri Palace, part of which has been uncovered in making the foundation for the Tiber embankment. These fragments were found seven meters below the actual level of the Roman streets, or rather more than 23 feet.

The first printing press in this country was set up in Harvard in 1639, and W. Lewis Fraser, the artist lecturer, finds that the first American made illustration appeared in Tully's Almanac of Boston in 1698. Increase Mather's "Ichabod," published in 1703, contained an American copper plate portrait, and from 1720 books were regularly illustrated in this counrty by American workmen. Mr. Fraser says he has every reason to believe that Benjamin Franklin was an engraver either on wood or type metal. If that is so, then three men who figured conspicuously in our revolutionary war were illustrators. Paul Revere was a copperplate engraver; Isaiah Thomas, the printer who distinguished himself at Lexington, was another, and Franklin was the third.

GENERAL WAYNE'S TWO GRAVES.

The Dust of Dashing "Mad Anthony" Divided and Reinterred.

There is no doubt that one portion of the body of General Wayne, the hero of Stony Point—"Mad Anthony," as he was popularly termed—was interred at the place where he died and the other in his native county. His original burial place was Fort Presque Isle, upon the site of which the city of Erie, Pa., now stands; the other locality honored as his last resting place is Rednor Cemetery, in Chester county, Pa. According to the Detroit Free Press, this curious circumstance was brought about in the following manner:

In the year 1815 the family of this famous man was given permission to remove his dust to Rednor, but upon opening the grave it was found that the body was partly petrified, and, consequently, very heavy. A medical friend of the family, recognizing the fact that it would be a very difficult and costly task to transport the remains in that condition, determined as far as possible to remove the petrified flesh from the bones, and this was accordingly done. The bones were then carefully packed up and delivered to the son, who was kept in ignorance of the operation, and he conveyed the box containing the precious remains of his father's body to his native county, where they were interred with appropriate ceremonies.

A monument was erected in 1809 over the grave by the Pennsylvania Society of the Cincinnati. What remained of the warrior was reinterred at Fort Presque Isle, and some years ago was discovered in the same state of preservation as when first exhumed, in a box bearing his name. Another memorial stone was raised in that place, and thus was commemorated the fact that all that was mortal of "Mad Anthony" Wayne found a final resting place in two localities far apart from each other.

American Workmen.

Every one agreed that the American skilled artisan puts forth more physical effort and produces more work in a given time than the English workman or the workman of any other manufacturing community. This fact struck me and many experienced directors of works most forcibly. Before concluding our tour I had the opportunity of verifying and strengthening this first impression. After watching the American workmen at Pittsburg and elsewhere I arrived at the same conclusion as to their efficiency. Their productive power is greater than that of the English workers in the same time, and their working hours are longer and their remuneration is greater. I met one of my old workmen at Mr. Carnegie's works in Pittsburg, and he indorsed my opinion. Speaking from his own practical experience:

"I am quite a different man here," he said, "from what I was in the old country; I don't know why it is so; whether it is that I live in a stimulating atmosphere or whether it is the example set me; but I know that I have got the go in me. I can do more work; I feel that I have it in me; but I also feel and I know that it won't last. I shall be done in 10 years."

No, it won't last. The extreme physical effort put forth results in greater production, but it saps the vital energies and cuts short the career. This continual work at high pressure does not pay in the end. "It won't last;" and the remark applies with equal force to the employers as well as to the workers. Competition between manufacturers is keener than in this country. They work their business at high pressure. There is a terrific struggle between them for possession of the markets. They put forth their utmost energies; and when they succeed their reward is great; but all can not be the leaders in industry. This fierce competition reacts on the men. We were surprised to find in a democratic country like America that the workmen had so little power and were to such a large extent the docile instruments of energetic employers.

The "bosses," as the foreman and managers of factories are called, drive the men to an extent that employers would never dream of attempting in this country. There are trades unions, but they do not seem able to protect the men in this respect. The "bosses" have the faculty of "driving" the men and getting the maximum amount of work out of them, and the men do not seem to have the inclination or power to resist the pressure. American manufacturers thus get the greatest possible service out of their plant.—Sir James Kitson, in the Contemporary Review.

The Electrical Era in Silver Mining.

R. S. Hunton, one of the leading mine owners of Colorado, says that electricity opens up a new era in the production of silver. The reason of this statement is that many of the high mountain mines have been valueless because of the expense of transporting fuel to them. Now through the utilization of water power with the electric motor these mines can be operated cheaply, and a notable increase of output may be looked for. So evident is this fact that there has already sprung up a demand for electrical mining machinery in Mexico, and our American electrical manufacturing companies are now sending large quantities of apparatus thither.

The Latest Census.

A Swiss scholar has been taking a census of the inhabitants of a cheese. The microscopic examination of one "gramme" of a fresh Emmonthaler contained no fewer than 90,000 so called microbes. This prodigious encampment, after 70 days, proved to have increased to a tribe of 800,000. Another sort of cheese contained within a single "gramme" board and lodging for about 2,000,000 microbes, while in a "gramme" cut from the rind of the same cheese were found about 5,000,000 of these inhabitants! A piece of cheese upon our tables, of a few pounds weight, may consequently contain more microbe inhabitants than there are human beings in the whole world.

NEW ELECTION LAW.

An Act

To regulate the nomination and election of public officers, requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and certain other expenses to be paid by the Commonwealth, and punishing certain offences in regard to such elections.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That from and after March first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, all ballots cast in elections for public officers within this Commonwealth, shall be printed and distributed at public expense as hereinafter provided. The printing of the ballots and of the cards of instruction for the elections in each county, and the delivery of the same to the election officers as hereinafter provided, and all other expenses incurred under the provisions of this act, shall be a county charge unless herein otherwise provided, the payment of which shall be provided for in the same manner as the payment of other election expenses. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to prepare forms for all the blanks made necessary or advisable by this act, and to furnish copies of the same to the county commissioners of each county, who shall procure further copies of the same at the cost of the county and furnish them to the election officers or other persons by whom they are to be used, in such quantities as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

SECTION 2. Any convention of delegates, or primary meeting of electors, or caucus held under the rules of a political party, or any board authorized to certify nominations representing a political party, which, at the election next preceding, polled at least three per centum of the largest entire vote for any office cast in the State, or in the electoral district or division thereof, for which such primary meeting, caucus, convention or board desires to make or certify nominations, may nominate one candidate for each office which is to be filled in the State, or in the said district or division at the next ensuing election, by causing a certificate of nomination to be drawn up and filed as hereinafter provided: Provided, That any political party which polled three per centum of the entire vote in the State at the election next preceding at which a State officer was voted for, may make and certify nominations according to the provisions of this section for any electoral division or district of the State, notwithstanding that such political party may have polled less than three per centum of the entire vote at the last preceding election in said electoral district or division. Every such certificate of nomination shall be signed by the presiding officer and the secretary or secretaries of the convention or primary meeting or caucus or board, who shall add thereto their places of residence, and shall be sworn or affirmed to by them, before any officer qualified to administer oaths, to be true to the best of their knowledge and belief, and a certificate of the oath shall be annexed to the certificate of nomination.

SECTION 3. Nominations of candidates for any public office may also be made by nomination papers, signed by qualified electors of the State, or of the electoral district or division thereof, for which the nomination is made, and filed in the proper office as provided in section five of this act. Where the nomination is for any office to be filled by the voters of the State at large, the number of qualified electors of the State signing such nomination paper, shall be at least one-half of one per centum of the largest vote for any officer elected in the State at the last preceding election at which a State officer was voted for. In the case of all other nominations, the number of qualified electors of the electoral district or division signing such nomination paper, shall be at least three per centum of the largest entire vote for any officer elected at the last preceding election in the said electoral district or division for which said nomination papers are designated to be made. Each elector signing a nomination paper shall add to his signature his place of residence and occupation, and no person may subscribe to more than one nomination for each office to be filled. The signatures to each nomination paper and the qualifications of the signers shall be vouched for by the affidavit of at least five of the signers thereof, which affidavit shall accompany the nomination paper: Provided, That nomination papers which are not signed and made out in strict compliance with all the requirements of this act shall be invalid.

SECTION 4. All certificates of nomination and nomination papers shall specify: One (1). The party or policy which such candidate represents, expressed in not more than three words; in the case of electors of president and vice president of the United States, the names of the candidates for president and vice president may be added to the party or political appellation. Two (2). The name of each candidate nominated therein, his profession, business or occupation if any, and his place of residence, with street and number thereon, if any. Three (3). The office for which such candidate is nominated: Provided, That no words shall be used in any nomination papers to describe or designate the party or policy or political appellation represented by the candidate named in such nomination papers as aforesaid, identical with or similar to the words used for the like purpose in certificates of nominations made by a convention of delegates of a political party, which, at the last preceding election, polled three per centum of the largest vote cast.

SECTION 5. Certificates of nomination for candidates for the offices of presidential electors and members of the House of Representatives of the United States and for all State offices including those of Judges, Senators and Representatives, shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least fifty-six days before the day of the election for which the candidates are nominated, and nomination papers for candidates for the said offices shall be filed with the said Secretary at least forty-nine days before the day of such election. Certificates of nomination and nomination papers for candidates for all other offices, except township and borough offices, shall be filed with the county commissioners of the respective counties at least forty-two and thirty-five days respectively before the day of the election. Certificates of nomination and nomination papers for candidates for township and borough offices and election officers and school directors in the same, shall be filed with the auditors of the respective townships and boroughs at least ten and seven days respectively before the day of election.

His linen, white and fine,
Were all the latest fashion
In eighteen twenty-nine.

Grandpa was a fine-looking young fellow then, so the old ladies say, and he is a fine-looking old gentleman now. For the past score of years he has been a firm believer in the merits of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. "It renewed my youth," he frequently says. It cures liver disease, dyspepsia, scrofulous sores, skin eruptions, and all diseases of the blood. For lingering coughs and consumption (which is lung-scrofula in its early stages) it is an unparalleled remedy.

Murder of a Beautiful Society Girl!

A PROMINENT AND WEALTHY YOUNG MAN ARRESTED FOR THE CRIME.—THE POLICE RETICENT.

For the past few days a great deal of comment has been occasioned by the mysterious disappearance of a beautiful young girl, the daughter of one of our wealthiest and most exclusive families. Now comes the rumor that she has been murdered.

Most startling of all is the report that one or our wealthiest young men has been arrested for the crime. By request of powerful and influential friends of the parties concerned, the police absolutely refuse any information at present, but the inner history of this mysterious occurrence is fully narrated in "The Shadow Detective," by "Old Sleuth: issued to day in "The Calumet Series." Ask your newsdealer to let you look at a copy.

I Had Faith.

About six months ago I was advised to consult Mrs. Hall, the great Spiritualist doctor, to see if she could cure me of Scrofula, from which I have suffered from childhood. She said if I would have faith in the medicine she gave me. I took her medicine, and in less than three months I was cured. Why, the way the medicine worked was a miracle. I begged of her to tell me what the medicine was made of, but she said she could not do so. Finally she told me the medicine was Sulphur Bitters, and that she never knew it to fail in all such cases as mine.—Mrs. Clara Knowlton, 35 Hanover St., Boston Mass. 9-18-2t.

POULTRY NOTES.

No. 32.

Do the managers of our fair do the best for themselves and all concerned in the majority of the exhibits? We think they do, but there is something wrong with the poultry part of it. I give a few reasons for thinking so.

In the first place there are all kinds and varieties of poultry on exhibition. Pure bred and mongrels.

In the second place there are all and any kind of judges for poultry. One man takes pains and has good pure bred poultry, he takes them to the fair with an idea of getting first prize, but instead he gets nothing. Perhaps his birds get the roup and die for him, and the man who has the mongrels gets the prize. Why is this? It is because the men who are chosen as judges know very little if any thing about poultry.

Hence our finest specimens are as a general thing left at home. When if we had them scored by the standard and justice given to all, it would have a tendency to bring out the best stock the county affords, and as the better the exhibits, the more people, I think it certainly an inducement for the managers to look after this matter.

Product of Oleomargarine.

The footing up in the Central Revenue Bureau has gone so far as to show that figures in regard to this year's product of oleomargarine are going to surprise the dairymen throughout the country and others interested in the manufacture of artificial butter. Last year the receipts from the taxes on oleomargarine were $768,291 as against $893,247 for the preceding year, a decrease of $107,000. This year there will be shown an increase of fully 40 per cent, something wholly unexpected.

The theory held by the officers of the bureau is that oleomargarine is steadily winning its way in public favor as an article of commerce, put upon the market simply for what it is. They believe that people generally are beginning to recognize it as a cheap and healthful substitute or butter.

It is noticeable from the returns that more oleomargarine is sold in mining regions, distant from the markets than any where else. This is because it "keeps" and does not become rancid as time goes by. Heretofore the output of oleomargarine has depended in a very great measure upon the grass crops. When these crops were good and the cows consequently gave milk freely, the government receipts on account of the tax upon oleomargarine amounted to almost nothing. When the grass did not grow well then there came a demand for oleomargarine. The unprecedented figures showing this year's increase from the tax on oleomargarine would induce the belief that it has come to stay, grass or no grass.

should read a good newspaper. In the selection of a newspaper many considerations should govern. First, it should be one that endeavors to give all the news without prejudice. It should be neatly printed on good paper. It should be independent—in favor of all that is good, upright, clean. Such a newspaper is printed in Harrisburg. It is under new management—enlarged, handsome, bold in the right, fearless in denouncing wrong; is always and unswervingly Democratic. It is the only Democratic newspaper at the State Capitol. It makes a specialty of Department News. It is the only paper in Central Pennsylvania that receives and prints full Associated Press Reports, obtained by it over its own wires. It presents each day Special Correspondence from all points tributary to Harrisburg, all the Harrisburg News, Fashion Notes, Household Hints, Domestic Recipes, Society Gossip, Scientific, Humorous and Political Articles, Short Stories and Sketches. Its Market Reports are complete, both as to Finance and Commerce. Its Live Stock Markets are prepared specially for THE PATRIOT, and have only been successfully imitated by one other newspaper in the State. The Saturday Sermon of Rev. EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Ex-Congressman William L. Scott, of Erie, died at Newport last Saturday. He was one of the most prominent democrats in the State.

All preliminary steps for the nomination of delegates to the constitutional convention must be taken, the same as though that convention were a fixed fact. In the selection of two delegates from this Senatorial district, by the Democratic Conference soon to assemble, Columbia county is just as much entitled to one of them as any other county in the district. Her candidate, Hon. A. L. Fritz, has had valuable experience as member of tne Legislature for two terms, which makes him well qualified for the position.

Turn On The Light.

Up to the time of the hearing before Judges Fell and Gordon on the charges against Auditor General McCamant, the recent exposures of corrupt practice in office related only to officials in Philadelphia. Late Treasurer Bardsley and the Mercantile Appraisers only were proceeded against criminally. In those exposures the people outside of Philadelphia therefore have not taken the intense interest that must be excited by the charges now made affecting the office of the Auditor General of the State At the recent hearing before the two judges it was developed that District Attorney Graham is in possession of most damaging proof of official unfaithfulness. The evidence consists of book entries and checks made by Bardsley, and letters writtten by Auditor General McCamant and Mr. Livsey to Bardsley. Bardsley in the criminal proceeding refuses to answer any questions relating to tnese checks and entries; declaring that his "self-respect and regard for his family" forbid his making any further disclosures. Auditor General McCamant the only witness to the facts can not be called as a witness against himself, and hence, as a legal prosecution, the proceeding falls for the time being. Now, however, let the People of Pennsylvania have the facts. Let the suspected State officials be arraigned before the bar of public opinion. What are the accounts and entries in Bardsley's hand writing which he refuses even to look at in court? Let the public see the McCamant and Livsey letters—all of them.

While the law permits the Auditor General to be silent in a legal proceeding, the people whose servant he is, have a right to demand that he shall speak. Did Mr. McCamant receive $7154.42 from Bardsley, as shown in his accounts? If so where did the money come from, and what was it paid for? What say you, Mr. Auditor General? What were the "favors you received" from Mr. Bardsley for which you thank him in your letters, corresponding in date with the mysterious Bardsley check stubs? Did District Attorney Graham present to Judges Fell and Gordon all of the McCamant letters he had before him?

The people of the state are entitled to know all that can be known on the question of the integrity of the state officials. If it be true that the corruption that has overwhelmed the public service in Philadelphia extends to State officials, the people have a right to know that fact, and to know it now. Let there be neither concealment or delay in this mattter. Speak out, gentlemen.

CHURCH ITEMS.

Scott Township S. S. Institute was held in Espy M. E. Church, Tuesday afternoon and evening, September 15th 1891, with Mr. J. S. Grimes, Pres. in the chair.

The Devotional services were conducted by Rev. A. R. Glaze, the same person was elected Secretary, and Mr. David Whitemire Treasurer of the convention

Opening remarks were made by the Pres. stating the authority and the object of this district Institute, and also the nature of much of the Sabbath School work done.

The question, "What is christian benevolence, and the best way to cultivate the spirit of christian giving?" was opened by Rev. C. L. Sones, and the discussion continued by Rev. R. W. Whitney.

"Primary class work" was discussed by Miss Eva Rupert of Bloomsburg. "The relation of the S. S. to the Home" by Rev. Whitney. The management of the S. S. by Mr. M. I Low of Lime Ridge. Home to home visitation by A. W. Spear, Secretary of the Co. Convention, and closing address by Rev. Glaze.

Music was furnished by the union of the three church choirs of Espy.

It was a splendid and profitable convention. All performed well their parts, and to this must be attributed the success of the convention. We trust that many have been influenced by the convention to consecrate themselves more heartily to S. S. work.

The North Branch Conference of Susquehanna Synod (Lutheran) will convene in Christ church, Buckhorn, Monday evening September 28th, opening sermon preached that evening by Rev. J. H. Weber, D. D. Sunbury. Conference will continue through Tuesday the 29th and Wednesday A. M. the 30th. Tuesday evening will be devoted to S. S. work. "The superintendent." "The teacher," and "The scholar," will be discussed. All are invited to be present at this meeting of Conference.

I Am an Old Man.

Shall be 75 years of age next June, and for the last six years have suffered from general debility and old age. At times I could not get out of bed without help. I commenced to take Sulphur Bitters. In a week I felt stronger and got a mighty fine appetite. I still continued their use, and to-day I walked over three miles without feeling tired, something I haven't done in five years before Sulphur Bitters is a right smart medicine. — George Brown, Keokuk, Iowa. 9-18-2t.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at C. A. Kleim's Drug Store.

Just how an alterative medicine cleanses the system is an open question but that Ayer's Sarsaparilla does produce a radical change in the blood is well attested on all sides. It is everywhere considered the best remedy for blood disorders.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

The same steady growth that has characterised the school for the past five years, is again manifest, and we have full twenty-five more boarders than at this time last year.

The present Senior class has completely eclipsed those of former years, and starts off with ninety-seven members, and there are still a few Juniors of '91 who contemplate entering the class.

The Junior class in all its divisions, numbers about eighty-five, besides many preparatory students, and the Model School is well up in the eighties.

Our large family make great daily inroads upon the commissary department of the school, and the resources of the new Steward and Matron have been heavily taxed, but they have in every particular, proved themselves more than equal to the occasion.

A more studious and contented, and yet withal, joyous and happy body of young people than ours we believe it hard to find. Among our number is a young man from North Carolina, and a letter has just been received from a young lady in Kansas who will likely be here in a few weeks, having chosen our school as the best place to prepare for Wellesly college.

A visit to the laundry discovers the fact that several pieces of the very latest machinery have been purchased and are in operation, which simply means greater care and better washing of the four thousand pieces of clothing in the weekly wash.

Several students who have been in attendance at other leading normal schools of the state, say that this school is far ahead in the board, washing and other accommodations furnished while at the same time the rates here are lower.

The Students Lecture Course for '91-'92 will open on Oct. 26 with the magnificent company entitled the "Ariel Thomas Combination."

This splendid combination has been secured after much effort and at great expense and we believe the citizens of Bloomsburg have in these people a treat richer than any they have ever before enjoyed. Mr. Thomas is said to be the purest and most irresistible humorist on the American platform. The famous orator John R. Clark of New York City will deliver his great lecture "To and Fro in London." Leland T. Powers who delighted the people of Bloomsburg two years ago with his presentation of the thirteen characters in Dickens' David Copperfield will this year give a similar presentation of David Garrick. Mr. Powers made his reputation in "David Garrick," and he was secured for the Students Course on the only night in the year when he could be secured. His charges are high, but we want the best.

Mrs. H. E. Monroe will be secured to give her lecture on Prominent People in Public Life, and will with her stereoptican throw upon the canvas the portraits of the men who are now foremost in American politics, while at the same time, she will give facts and incidents of value and interest about each person so represented.

The fifth entertainment of the course will probably be by Lu Cake and Miss Meade. There is some slight delay about fixing the date, so they are not announced positively yet, but it is reasonably certain that they will come. Last winter they were on the institute programme at Sunbury, and carried away the honors of the season.

Reserved seat tickets for this entire course will be $1.50.

There's danger in a cough—more than ever when your blood is "bad." It makes things easy for Consumption. But there's a cure for it in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A positive cure—not only for Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma and all lingering Coughs, but for Consumption itself in all its earlier stages. It's reasonable. All these diseases depend on tainted blood. Consumption is simply Lung-scrofula. And for every form of scrofula and blood-taint, the "Discovery" is a certain remedy. It's so certain, that its makers guarantee it to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money is refunded. With a medicine that is certain, this can be done.

There's a cure for Catarrh, too, no matter what you've been led to believe. If there isn't, in your case, you'll get $500 cash. It's a bona-fide offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. There's risk in it, to be sure, but they are willing to take the risk—you ought to be glad to take the medicine.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering. I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. mar-6-1y

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The convention will be held in Bethlehem, Northampton county, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 29 and 30, and October 1, 1891, having been postponed one week at the urgent request of the local committee of arrangements.

The first session will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30, in the Moravian church, where delegates should report immediately upon their arrival. Each county is entitled to ten delegates, and each city of 10,000 or more inhabitants, to ten additional. By action of the convention at New Castle, 1890, associations not auxiliary to the interdenominational work, in counties not containing such auxiliary association are not invited to send ten delegates each.

All delegates will be entertained by the Christian people of Bethlehem, and should promptly advise Rev. G A. Schwedes of their purpose to attend.

The Central railroad of New Jersey, the Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia & Reading and Baltimore & Ohio railroads have granted excursion rates to Delegates and others attending, who will receive orders for tickets by applying to Rev. G. F. Scott, No. 442 Powell street, South Bethlehem, naming the roads over which they will travel.

The programme as arranged is an excellent one, and will well repay attendance from all parts of the State.

It is hoped that the unavoidable change of date will not prevent any from attending who had arranged for the original date, and that many others may also be enabled to be present.

By order of the Executive Committee.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating Sick Headache Heartburn Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." No Matter How Hard any druggist tries to sell you his own cough medicine, remember he does it because he makes more money on it. Insist on having Kemp's Balsam for the throat or lungs, for there is no cough remedy so pure and none so quick to break up a cold. For influenza, soreness of the throat and tickling irritation with constant cough, Kemp's Balsam is an immediate cure. Large bottles 50c and $1. At all druggists.

CHURCH ITEMS.

Scott Township S. S. Institute was held in Espy M. E. Church, Tuesday afternoon and evening, September 15th 1891, with Mr. J. S. Grimes, Pres. in the chair.

The Devotional services were conducted by Rev. A. R. Glaze, the same person was elected Secretary, and Mr. David Whitemire Treasurer of the convention

Opening remarks were made by the Pres. stating the authority and the object of this district Institute, and also the nature of much of the Sabbath School work done.

The question, "What is christian benevolence, and the best way to cultivate the spirit of christian giving?" was opened by Rev. C. L. Sones, and the discussion continued by Rev. R. W. Whitney.

"Primary class work" was discussed by Miss Eva Rupert of Bloomsburg. "The relation of the S. S. to the Home" by Rev. Whitney. The management of the S. S. by Mr. M. I Low of Lime Ridge. Home to home visitation by A. W. Spear, Secretary of the Co. Convention, and closing address by Rev. Glaze.

Music was furnished by the union of the three church choirs of Espy.

It was a splendid and profitable convention. All performed well their parts, and to this must be attributed the success of the convention. We trust that many have been influenced by the convention to consecrate themselves more heartily to S. S. work.

The North Branch Conference of Susquehanna Synod (Lutheran) will convene in Christ church, Buckhorn, Monday evening September 28th, opening sermon preached that evening by Rev. J. H. Weber, D. D. Sunbury. Conference will continue through Tuesday the 29th and Wednesday A. M. the 30th. Tuesday evening will be devoted to S. S. work. "The superintendent." "The teacher," and "The scholar," will be discussed. All are invited to be present at this meeting of Conference.

I Am an Old Man.

Shall be 75 years of age next June, and for the last six years have suffered from general debility and old age. At times I could not get out of bed without help. I commenced to take Sulphur Bitters. In a week I felt stronger and got a mighty fine appetite. I still continued their use, and to-day I walked over three miles without feeling tired, something I haven't done in five years before Sulphur Bitters is a right smart medicine. — George Brown, Keokuk, Iowa. 9-18-2t.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at C. A. Kleim's Drug Store.

Just how an alterative medicine cleanses the system is an open question but that Ayer's Sarsaparilla does produce a radical change in the blood is well attested on all sides. It is everywhere considered the best remedy for blood disorders.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

The same steady growth that has characterised the school for the past five years, is again manifest, and we have full twenty-five more boarders than at this time last year.

The present Senior class has completely eclipsed those of former years, and starts off with ninety-seven members, and there are still a few Juniors of '91 who contemplate entering the class.

The Junior class in all its divisions, numbers about eighty-five, besides many preparatory students, and the Model School is well up in the eighties.

Our large family make great daily inroads upon the commissary department of the school, and the resources of the new Steward and Matron have been heavily taxed, but they have in every particular, proved themselves more than equal to the occasion.

A more studious and contented, and yet withal, joyous and happy body of young people than ours we believe it hard to find. Among our number is a young man from North Carolina, and a letter has just been received from a young lady in Kansas who will likely be here in a few weeks, having chosen our school as the best place to prepare for Wellesly college.

A visit to the laundry discovers the fact that several pieces of the very latest machinery have been purchased and are in operation, which simply means greater care and better washing of the four thousand pieces of clothing in the weekly wash.

Several students who have been in attendance at other leading normal schools of the state, say that this school is far ahead in the board, washing and other accommodations furnished while at the same time the rates here are lower.

The Students Lecture Course for '91-'92 will open on Oct. 26 with the magnificent company entitled the "Ariel Thomas Combination."

This splendid combination has been secured after much effort and at great expense and we believe the citizens of Bloomsburg have in these people a treat richer than any they have ever before enjoyed. Mr. Thomas is said to be the purest and most irresistible humorist on the American platform. The famous orator John R. Clark of New York City will deliver his great lecture "To and Fro in London." Leland T. Powers who delighted the people of Bloomsburg two years ago with his presentation of the thirteen characters in Dickens' David Copperfield will this year give a similar presentation of David Garrick. Mr. Powers made his reputation in "David Garrick," and he was secured for the Students Course on the only night in the year when he could be secured. His charges are high, but we want the best.

Mrs. H. E. Monroe will be secured to give her lecture on Prominent People in Public Life, and will with her stereoptican throw upon the canvas the portraits of the men who are now foremost in American politics, while at the same time, she will give facts and incidents of value and interest about each person so represented.

The fifth entertainment of the course will probably be by Lu Cake and Miss Meade. There is some slight delay about fixing the date, so they are not announced positively yet, but it is reasonably certain that they will come. Last winter they were on the institute programme at Sunbury, and carried away the honors of the season.

Reserved seat tickets for this entire course will be $1.50.

There's danger in a cough—more than ever when your blood is "bad." It makes things easy for Consumption. But there's a cure for it in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A positive cure—not only for Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma and all lingering Coughs, but for Consumption itself in all its earlier stages. It's reasonable. All these diseases depend on tainted blood. Consumption is simply Lung-scrofula. And for every form of scrofula and blood-taint, the "Discovery" is a certain remedy. It's so certain, that its makers guarantee it to benefit or cure, in every case, or the money is refunded. With a medicine that is certain, this can be done.

There's a cure for Catarrh, too, no matter what you've been led to believe. If there isn't, in your case, you'll get $500 cash. It's a bona-fide offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. There's risk in it, to be sure, but they are willing to take the risk—you ought to be glad to take the medicine.

Consumption Cured'

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering. I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. mar-6-1y

TO SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The convention will be held in Bethlehem, Northampton county, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 29 and 30, and October 1, 1891, having been postponed one week at the urgent request of the local committee of arrangements.

The first session will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30, in the Moravian church, where delegates should report immediately upon their arrival. Each county is entitled to ten delegates, and each city of 10,000 or more inhabitants, to ten additional. By action of the convention at New Castle, 1890, associations not auxiliary to the interdenominational work, in counties not containing such auxiliary association are not invited to send ten delegates each.

All delegates will be entertained by the Christian people of Bethlehem, and should promptly advise Rev. G A. Schwedes of their purpose to attend.

The Central railroad of New Jersey, the Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia & Reading and Baltimore & Ohio railroads have granted excursion rates to Delegates and others attending, who will receive orders for tickets by applying to Rev. G. F. Scott, No. 442 Powell street, South Bethlehem, naming the roads over which they will travel.

The programme as arranged is an excellent one, and will well repay attendance from all parts of the State.

It is hoped that the unavoidable change of date will not prevent any from attending who had arranged for the original date, and that many others may also be enabled to be present.

By order of the Executive Committee.

WM. S. ROSS, M D.
Chairman.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

Heart-burn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A LEAP YEAR'S MARRIAGE

Searles Says Mrs. Hopkins Did the Proposing.

HE MARRIED FOR LOVE AND MONEY.

But Love, He Says, Was the Principal Reason Why He Wedded a Woman Who Was a Score of Years His Senior—The Contest Commenced.

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 23.—Timothy Hopkins, of San Francisco, the adopted son of Mrs. M. F. S. Hopkins Searles, sat among half a dozen noted lawyers in the probate court yesterday. He was ready to contest the wealthy woman's will without regard to cost. He had refused, it is said, to compromise the case for $2,500,000.

Searles Was on Hand.

Edward F. Searles, of Methuen, who married the widow of Mark Hopkins, and to whom the $30,000,000 or more of her property was left, to the expressed seclusion of Timothy Hopkins, was on hand to stand by the will. He had several prominent lawyers to aid him also. They were William Allen Butler, Wilhelminus Mynderse, General T. H. Hubbard and Thomas E. Stillman, of New York; Colonel Solomon Lincoln, of Boston, and Richard Dodge, of Cambridge. Judge Rollin E. Harmon sat on the bench when the court opened. The witnesses to the will, Messrs. Dodge, Thornton and Norris, were called to the stand by Colonel Lincoln.

The Widower Testifies.

"Was Mrs. Searles of sound and disposing mind, Mr. Dodge?" asked Colonel Lincoln.

Before the witness could answer, Mr. Burley, counsel for Timothy Hopkins, called for the will made prior to the one in dispute and dated Nov. 8, 1887. Counsel for Searles objected, but Judge Harmon ordered it produced. It was made on the date of the marriage of Mr. Searles and Mrs. Hopkins, and gave half of Mrs. Searles' estate to her husband and the other half to Timothy Hopkins. Mr. Searles was then put upon the stand. He told his life history, which has a tinge of romance. He was born in Methuen, Mass., fifty years before July 4 last. He lived there off and on until 1884.

She Proposed to Him.

In the spring of 1883 he met Mrs. Hopkins in San Francisco. He went to her with a letter of introduction, asking permission to view her house. On numerous occasions thereafter he met her in the east and west by invitation.

Mrs. Hopkins had told him that she was twenty years his senior. When the marriage was proposed Mrs. Hopkins consulted her adopted son. Mr. Searles did not know what Timothy said, but he objected.

"When was the proposition of marriage first made?"

"In the autumn of 1883, but not by me."

"She proposed to you, then, did she?"

"She did, sir."

"When did you make the proposition to her?"

"In 1884. The marriage was agreed upon in September of 1887, in the early part of the month, at New York."

Love and for Money.

"Will you tell me why you entered into a marriage contract with a woman twenty-one years older than yourself?"

"I married for all that she was, love—love and money both."

"Which was the stronger motive, love or money?"

"I don't believe I am obliged to answer that question."

Judge Harmon ruled that the question was competent, and Mr. Searles answered, "Love."

"Did you have any talk about the disposition of her property prior to marriage?"

"No, sir."

He Gave Her Three Years to Think.

In the course of his testimony Mr. Searles said that while in California he went on several excursions into the country with Mrs. Hopkins and her daughter-in-law. He did not assent to Mrs. Hopkins' proposal of marriage for three years, in order to give her a chance to be sure that she was satisfied. He had never previously proposed marriage to any one.

Robert Garrett Must Now Defend.

TRENTON, Sept. 23.—Judge Green, in the United States circuit court, rendered an opinion against Robert Garrett, of Baltimore. His counsel moved to have the summons served upon him in a $3,000,000 suit set aside, but the court declined to do so. William A. Jewett contracted with Garrett to connect the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company with a cable he was laying from England. Jewett could not complete his work because Garrett backed out. He brings suit for $3,000,000. A sharp deputy marshal caught Garrett in Jersey City as he was boarding his private car and made service, which Garrett's counsel unsuccessfully tried to have dismissed, because it was not the intention of the law to track and waylay a man to make service.

Postmaster General Haggart Accused.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—In the house of commons Mr. Lister, M. P. for West Lambton, gave notice that he will at once make an impeachment of Hon J. C. Haggart, postmaster general. The charge will be that while a member of parliament Mr. Haggart was interested in the contract given by the government for the construction of that part of the Canadian Pacific railway which runs between Keewatin and Eagle river. This is the sensation of the day.

Deacon White's Crash.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—S. V. White & Co., of New York and Chicago, who made an assignment yesterday, went under because they tried to corner the country's supply of the grain for September and October delivery and failed.

The firm owes about $2,000,000, mostly to banks and money lenders. Against this, as assets, are about 8,000,000 bushels of corn, held by White & Co. in Chicago and the west.

The Bank Failed, but Is Still Open.

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 23.—The Butler County bank, of Millerstown, owned by J. Hoyt, suspended payment a week ago, but has not closed its doors. The deposits aggregate only $26,450, and Mr. Hoyt says that his assets amount to $30,000, and that if he can obtain assistance for a few days he will be able to pull through.

Detective Campbell in Jail.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 23.—John O. Campbell, the alleged detective, is in jail on a charge of perjury, preferred by Miss Mary Collins. The charge is based on the affidavit of Campbell, in which he states that Miss Collins confessed to him that John Miller, her brother-in-law, killed Mrs. Miller.

Brief Mention of Matters Which Everybody Should Know About—A Week's Accidents and Crimes Accurately and Concisely Chronicled.

Papers Sued for Alleged Rebates.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—The attorney general has brought suits against the Philadelphia Press, Inquirer, News, German Democrat, North American and Evening Bulletin to recover the sums of money alleged to have been paid as rebates to the persons who procured for them advertisements of the mercantile appraisers' lists.

Suicide at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—Henry Fischer, whose home is at 312 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, plunged into the canal at Maclay street about 3 p. m. and was drowned. It was a deliberate suicide.

Dragged to His Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—William Stinson, a young coupe driver, while returning to his stable was thrown from the vehicle. His left leg became entangled in the harness, and the horse galloped madly up the street. When the horse was finally stopped, Stinson's head was battered into an almost unrecognizable mass. Stinson was twenty-three years old, and leaves a widow and one child.

Rumors of a Big Shortage.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 18.—It was rumored here that Thomas L. Shields, secretary and treasurer of the Allegheny Heating company, is short over $100,000 in his accounts. The company says that there is a deficiency, but how much cannot be learned.

To the Bitter End.

HUNTINGDON, Sept. 19.—The many employes at the Rock Hill Iron and Coal company's plants at Orbisonia have decided to continue the strike to the bitter end. The company say they will start up with imported men.

Johnston Breaks the Record.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—At the last day of the meeting at Homewood Driving park Johnston paced three of the fastest heats ever made at Homewood park in a race, winning the free for all race and lowering the record half a second. Time, 2:12, 2:11, 2:13. Grant's Abdallah was second, Dallas, third. The entry list was so large in the 2:32 trot that it had to be made into two divisions. Instant won in the first division and Kentucky Bird in the second. Rosalind Wilkes took the 2:15 trot in straight heats.

Window Glass Factories to Start Up.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—The window glass manufacturers and workers have settled all differences. The workers withdrew their demand for an advance in wages and the manufacturers agreed to pay last year's wages. The fires will be lighted soon.

Burned by Molten Steel.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 21.—Four men were seriously injured in an explosion at Carnegie, Phipps & Co.'s Homestead mill. One of them will die and the others are in a dangerous condition. The men were working in the pit in the converting department. A large crane used to carry molten steel was in operation above them. Attached to the crane's chain was an immense ladle filled with the boiling metal. A link of the chain snapped, emptying the contents of the ladle upon the men. The metal exploded, scattering it in all directions. The victims were almost covered with the metal and were horribly burned.

Killed by a Blow with the Fist.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Frank Birmingham and Charles Cummings quarreled over some trouble that had taken place between their mothers. Birmingham knocked Cummings down with a blow of his fist, killing him instantly. Birmingham was arrested.

Pennsylvania Cattle Attacked.

HUNTINGDON, Sept. 21.—The cattle in this and adjoining counties are being attacked with a thus far unidentified disease, which first appeared about two weeks ago. Already hundreds of cattle have perished. When attacked the animal's head falls helplessly and its legs seem unable to bear the weight of the body.

Succeeded in Killing Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—William J. Peacock, head of the underwear department of Joel J. Bailey & Co., committed suicide by shooting himself five times in the head. He was taken to the German hospital and died within an hour after his admission.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons on Trial.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Lucy Fitzsimmons in the celebrated murder case in which she with her husband, Frank C. Fitzsimmons (who escaped from jail here last Monday), killed Detective Gilkinson March 24, has begun in the criminal court here.

Three Miners Killed.

SCRANTON, Sept. 22.—A great mass of falling roof caught Joseph Horan, a miner, and his two Hungarian laborers while they were loading cars in the Cayuga colliery. When taken out they were dead.

A Distinguished Family Was Hers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Elizabeth Borden Biddle died here aged ninety-two. Mrs. Biddle was a descendant of a distinguished family, her father being Judge Hopkinson, author of "Hail Columbia;" her grandfather, Francis Hopinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and her great-grandfather, Thomas Hopkinson, a member of the provincial council and judge of the vice admiralty under George II.

Burned in a Barn.

MARION, Sept. 22.—A big barn belonging to Vice President Frank Thomson, of the Pennsylvania railroad, was burned. An employee, James Baker, was seriously burned. A horse and three valuable pack dogs were also burned.

I have had catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing and pleasant, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N. Y.

Friday night, "Aline," Saturday night, "Oliver Twist." Prices, 15, 25, 35. All the plays at the Opera House thus far, have been first class.

Gen. Hastings will deliver a lecture in the Danville Court House on Saturday evening on the Johnstown Flood. If twenty persons can be secured who desire to hear him, arrangements will be made for a special train. The cost of ticket and reserved seat will be about 85 cents. Will any who wish to go please report to Miss Hattie Peacock or to Mr. A. N. Yost.

It having been judicially determined that Ellis Young did not fire the shot that killed Stewart C. Robinson, the conclusion is inevitable that Tom Smith or Minor Smith did, as they were the only other persons in the party which was "halted" by the marauders.

Freeze's History of Columbia County needs no "revision" yet. The Col. knew whereof he wrote.

The war fossils have assumed such ghastly forms and unseemly shapes that those who resurrected them are fleeing from them in utter dismay and disgust. That is always the case when "chickens come home to roost."

THE COLUMBIAN should go into every home, We would welcome every paper of the county, and many, others out side, into our home, if we only had the means to bring them here.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A LEAP YEAR'S MARRIAGE

Searles Says Mrs. Hopkins Did the Proposing.

HE MARRIED FOR LOVE AND MONEY.

But Love, He Says, Was the Principal Reason Why He Wedded a Woman Who Was a Score of Years His Senior—The Contest Commenced.

SALEM, Mass., Sept. 23.—Timothy Hopkins, of San Francisco, the adopted son of Mrs. M. F. S. Hopkins Searles, sat among half a dozen noted lawyers in the probate court yesterday. He was ready to contest the wealthy woman's will without regard to cost. He had refused, it is said, to compromise the case for $2,500,000.

Searles Was on Hand.

Edward F. Searles, of Methuen, who married the widow of Mark Hopkins, and to whom the $30,000,000 or more of her property was left, to the expressed seclusion of Timothy Hopkins, was on hand to stand by the will. He had several prominent lawyers to aid him also. They were William Allen Butler, Wilhelminus Mynderse, General T. H. Hubbard and Thomas E. Stillman, of New York; Colonel Solomon Lincoln, of Boston, and Richard Dodge, of Cambridge. Judge Rollin E. Harmon sat on the bench when the court opened. The witnesses to the will, Messrs. Dodge, Thornton and Norris, were called to the stand by Colonel Lincoln.

The Widower Testifies.

"Was Mrs. Searles of sound and disposing mind, Mr. Dodge?" asked Colonel Lincoln.

Before the witness could answer, Mr. Burley, counsel for Timothy Hopkins, called for the will made prior to the one in dispute and dated Nov. 8, 1887. Counsel for Searles objected, but Judge Harmon ordered it produced. It was made on the date of the marriage of Mr. Searles and Mrs. Hopkins, and gave half of Mrs. Searles' estate to her husband and the other half to Timothy Hopkins. Mr. Searles was then put upon the stand. He told his life history, which has a tinge of romance. He was born in Methuen, Mass., fifty years before July 4 last. He lived there off and on until 1881.

She Proposed to Him.

In the spring of 1883 he met Mrs. Hopkins in San Francisco. He went to her with a letter of introduction, asking permission to view her house. On numerous occasions thereafter he met her in the east and west by invitation.

Mrs. Hopkins had told him that she was twenty years his senior. When the marriage was proposed Mrs. Hopkins consulted her adopted son. Mr. Searles did not know what Timothy said, but he objected.

"When was the proposition of marriage first made?"

"In the autumn of 1883, but not by me."

"She proposed to you, then, did she?"

"She did, sir."

"When did you make the proposition to her?"

"In 1884. The marriage was agreed upon in September of 1887, in the early part of the month, at New York."

Love and for Money.

"Will you tell me why you entered into a marriage contract with a woman twenty-one years older than yourself?"

"I married for all that she was, love—love and money both."

"Which was the stronger motive, love or money?"

"I don't believe I am obliged to answer that question."

Judge Harmon ruled that the question was competent, and Mr. Searles answered, "Love."

"Did you have any talk about the disposition of her property prior to marriage?"

"No, sir."

He Gave Her Three Years to Think.

In the course of his testimony Mr. Searles said that while in California he went on several excursions into the country with Mrs. Hopkins and her daughter-in-law. He did not assent to Mrs. Hopkins' proposal of marriage for three years, in order to give her a chance to be sure that she was satisfied. He had never previously proposed marriage to any one.

Robert Garrett Must Now Defend.

TRENTON, Sept. 23.—Judge Green, in the United States circuit court, rendered an opinion against Robert Garrett, of Baltimore. His counsel moved to have the summons served upon him in a $3,000,000 suit set aside, but the court declined to do so. William A. Jewett contracted with Garrett to connect the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company with a cable he was laying from England. Jewett could not complete his work because Garrett backed out. He brings suit for $3,000,000. A sharp deputy marshal caught Garrett in Jersey City as he was boarding his private car and made service, which Garrett's counsel unsuccessfully tried to have dismissed, because it was not the intention of the law to track and waylay a man to make service.

Postmaster General Haggart Accused.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—In the house of commons Mr. Lister, M. P. for West Lambton, gave notice that he will at once make an impeachment of Hon J. C. Haggart, postmaster general. The charge will be that while a member of parliament Mr. Haggart was interested in the contract given by the government for the construction of that part of the Canadian Pacific railway which runs between Keewatin and Eagle river. This is the sensation of the day.

Deacon White's Crash.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—S. V. White & Co., of New York and Chicago, who made an assignment yesterday, went under because they tried to corner the country's supply of the grain for September and October delivery and failed.

The firm owes about $2,000,000, mostly to banks and money lenders. Against this, as assets, are about 8,000,000 bushels of corn, held by White & Co. in Chicago and the west.

The Bank Failed, but Is Still Open.

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 23.—The Butler County bank, of Millerstown, owned by J. Hoyt, suspended payment a week ago, but has not closed its doors. The deposits aggregate only $26,450, and Mr. Hoyt says that his assets amount to $30,000, and that if he can obtain assistance for a few days he will be able to pull through.

Detective Campbell in Jail.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 23.—John O. Campbell, the alleged detective, is in jail on a charge of perjury, preferred by Miss Mary Collins. The charge is based on the affidavit of Campbell, in which he states that Miss Collins confessed to him that John Miller, her brother-in-law, killed Mrs. Miller.

KEYSTONE STATE NEWS

Items Which Are of Particular Interest to Pennsylvanians.

IN THIS AND NEARBY COUNTIES.

Brief Mention of Matters Which Everybody Should Know About—A Week's Accidents and Crimes Accurately and Concisely Chronicled.

Papers Sued for Alleged Rebates.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—The attorney general has brought suits against the Philadelphia Press, Inquirer, News, German Democrat, North American and Evening Bulletin to recover the sums of money alleged to have been paid as rebates to the persons who procured for them advertisements of the mercantile appraisers' lists.

Suicide at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—Henry Fischer, whose home is at 312 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, plunged into the canal at Maclay street about 3 p. m. and was drowned. It was a deliberate suicide.

Dragged to His Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—William Stinson, a young coupe driver, while returning to his stable was thrown from the vehicle. His left leg became entangled in the harness, and the horse galloped madly up the street. When the horse was finally stopped, Stinson's head was battered into an almost unrecognizable mass. Stinson was twenty-three years old, and leaves a widow and one child.

Rumors of a Big Shortage.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 18.—It was rumored here that Thomas L. Shields, secretary and treasurer of the Allegheny Heating company, is short over $100,000 in his accounts. The company says that there is a deficiency, but how much cannot be learned.

To the Bitter End.

HUNTINGDON, Sept. 19.—The many employes at the Rock Hill Iron and Coal company's plants at Orbisonia have decided to continue the strike to the bitter end. The company say they will start up with imported men.

Johnston Breaks the Record.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—At the last day of the meeting at Homewood Driving park Johnston paced three of the fastest heats ever made at Homewood park in a race, winning the free for all race and lowering the record half a second. Time, 2:12, 2:11, 2:13. Grant's Abdallah was second, Dallas, third. The entry list was so large in the 2:32 trot that it had to be made into two divisions. Instant won in the first division and Kentucky Bird in the second. Rosalind Wilkes took the 2:15 trot in straight heats.

Window Glass Factories to Start Up.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 19.—The window glass manufacturers and workers have settled all differences. The workers withdrew their demand for an advance in wages and the manufacturers agreed to pay last year's wages. The fires will be lighted soon.

Burned by Molten Steel.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 21.—Four men were seriously injured in an explosion at Carnegie, Phipps & Co.'s Homestead mill. One of them will die and the others are in a dangerous condition. The men were working in the pit in the converting department. A large crane used to carry molten steel was in operation above them. Attached to the crane's chain was an immense ladle filled with the boiling metal. A link of the chain snapped, emptying the contents of the ladle upon the men. The metal exploded, scattering it in all directions. The victims were almost covered with the metal and were horribly burned.

Killed by a Blow with the Fist.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Frank Birmingham and Charles Cummings quarreled over some trouble that had taken place between their mothers. Birmingham knocked Cummings down with a blow of his fist, killing him instantly. Birmingham was arrested.

Pennsylvania Cattle Attacked.

HUNTINGDON, Sept. 21.—The cattle in this and adjoining counties are being attacked with a thus far unidentified disease, which first appeared about two weeks ago. Already hundreds of cattle have perished. When attacked the animal's head falls helplessly and its legs seem unable to bear the weight of the body.

Succeeded in Killing Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—William J. Peacock, head of the underwear department of Joel J. Bailey & Co., committed suicide by shooting himself five times in the head. He was taken to the German hospital and died within an hour after his admission.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons on Trial.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 22.—The trial of Mrs. Lucy Fitzsimmons in the celebrated murder case in which she with her husband, Frank C. Fitzsimmons (who escaped from jail here last Monday), killed Detective Gilkinson March 24, has begun in the criminal court here.

Three Miners Killed.

SCRANTON, Sept. 22.—A great mass of falling roof caught Joseph Horan, a miner, and his two Hungarian laborers while they were loading cars in the Cayuga colliery. When taken out they were dead.

A Distinguished Family Was Hers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Elizabeth Borden Biddle died here aged ninety-two. Mrs. Biddle was a descendant of a distinguished family, her father being Judge Hopkinson, author of "Hail Columbia;" her grandfather, Francis Hopinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and her great-grandfather, Thomas Hopkinson, a member of the provincial council and judge of the vice admiralty under George II.

Burned in a Barn.

MARION, Sept. 22.—A big barn belonging to Vice President Frank Thomson, of the Pennsylvania railroad, was burned. An employee, James Baker, was seriously burned. A horse and three valuable pack dogs were also burned.

I have had catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing and pleasant, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N. Y.

THE STANDARD BEARERS

Flower and Sheehan Nominated by the Democrats.

CHAPIN'S FIGHT FOR FIRST PLACE.

Rice for Secretary of State, Campbell for Controller, Rosendale for Attorney General, Danforth for Treasurer and Schenck for Engineer.

SARATOGA, Sept. 17.—The Democratic state convention has adjourned after nominating the following ticket:

For Governor—Roswell P. Flower, of Jefferson.

For Lieutenant Governor—William F. Sheehan, of Erie.

For Secretary of State—Frank Rice, of Ontario.

For Comptroller—Frank Campbell, of Steuben.

For Attorney General—Simon W. Rosendale, of Albany.

For State Treasurer—Elliott Danforth, of Chenango.

For State Engineer—Martin Schenck, of Rensselaer.

Flower versus Chapin.

Flower was nominated on the first ballot. The total vote cast was 377, of which Flower received 334 and Mayor Alfred C. Chapin, of Brooklyn, 43. Kings county voted solid for Chapin.

John P. Adams, chairman of the Kings county delegation, moved to make the nomination unanimous. Three cheers were given for Kings county. When the convention had quieted down a little, Mr. Adams said that this was the result of the action of the Kings county delegation at a meeting held in the morning. The other candidates were nominated by acclamation, and the convention adjourned after heartily cheering the ticket.

The Platform.

The following platform was adopted amid thunderous applause:

The Democratic party of the state of New York, in convention assembled, renews the pledges of its fidelity to Democratic faith, and as regards national issues reaffirms the doctrine of the national platforms of 1884 and 1888, indorsed by the popular votes in those years, and so overwhelmingly ratified by the popular verdict in the congressional elections of 1890.

We now, as then, steadfastly adhere to principles of sound finance. We are against the coinage of any dollar which is not of the intrinsic value of every dollar of the United States.

We therefore denounce the new Sherman silver law, under which one-tenth of our gold stock has been exported and all our silver output is dammed up at home, as a false pretense but artful hindrance of return to free bimetallic coinage and as tending only to produce a change from one kind of metalism to another.

The Sherman Law Denounced.

We therefore unite with the friends of honest money everywhere in stigmatizing the Sherman progressive silver basis law as no solution of the gold and silver question, and as a fit appendix to the subsidy and bounty swindle, the McKinley worse-than-war tariff, the Blaine reciprocity humbug, the squandered surplus, the advancing deficit, the defective census, the falsified representation and the revolutionary procedures of the billion dollar congress, all justly condemned by the people's great uprising last November, a verdict which, renewed next year, will empower Democratic statesmen to guide the people's councils and to execute the people's will.

We congratulate the people of the state upon the beneficent results which followed the election of a Democratic assembly last autumn. That victory secured the election of a Democrat to the United States senate, a representative in full sympathy with the popular majority on great questions of federal policy. It gave the state the lowest tax rate of thirty-six years and for the first time in a generation freedom from taxation for the general purposes of government. It gave New York city the means of securing rapid transit—a boon which Republican legislatures had for years denied. It gave the people the shortest legislative session in seventeen years, a tribute to the faithful industry of the Democratic assembly, by whom this result was achieved in the interest of economy and good legislation.

Pledges Redeemed.

Our pledges to the people contained in the Democratic platforms of 1887, 1888 and 1889 were promptly redeemed by the Democratic assembly in the passage of the following measures:

1. A bill to enumerate the inhabitants of the state, preparatory to a reapportionment of senate and assembly districts.

2. A bill to reapportion the congress districts in pursuance of the federal statute and upon the basis of the recent federal census.

3. A bill to provide for a constitutional convention in accordance with the wish of the people as declared by a large majority at the polls in 1890.

4. A bill to revise and consolidate the excise laws—a measure intelligently and equitably framed, carefully regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors, prescribing just fees for licenses and preserving all needful restrictions for the maintenance of order and the good of society.

5. Several bills to ameliorate the condition of agriculture and labor and to lessen the burden of direct taxation.

The Apportionment Question.

All those measures passed by the Democratic assembly in obedience to the demand of the popular majority were defeated in the Republican senate by the representatives of the minority of the people. Thus has the Republican party continued to betray the people's interest. It defies the constitution, denies fair representation in the legislature to 1,300,000 new inhabitants of the state by refusing to pass an enumeration bill—the preliminary step to the abolition of the present antiquated apportionment of the senate and assembly districts, which is based on the census of sixteen years ago. It not only conspired with the federal census bureau to deprive the state of an additional representative in congress and in the electoral college by a fraudulent count of the inhabitants of New York city, but it refuses to comply with the command of its own federal congress to rearrange the thirty-four congress districts of the state so that all contain as nearly as practicable an equal number of inhabitants.

It ignores the emphatic declaration of the people, who, by a plurality of 328,000 votes, recorded themselves in favor of a constitutional convention.

Concerning Prohibition.

It insists upon a passage of sumptuary laws which needlessly interfere with the personal liberty of lawabiding citizens. It demonstrates the hypocrisy of its professions by twice recording itself in the legislature in favor of a prohibition amendment and then refusing to make provision for its submission to the people, except at a special election not desired by prohibitionists and at an unnecessary expense of over $600,000 to the taxpayers. It refuses to ameliorate the condition of wage earners by enacting just and conservative laws in their interest. It shows its subserviency to the moneyed interests by ignoring the demands of the agricultural and working classes for reforms in methods of taxation. It covertly lends its influence to the restriction of manhood suffrage. It indicates its hostility to home rule by its efforts at meddlesome interference with the affairs of large cities.

It encourages expensive legislative investigating committees, whose investigations degenerate into strikes for political patronage upon the official authorities of Democratic municipalities.

The World's Fair.

It inflicted a hostile blow on the best welfare of the state, by depriving New York of the World's fair, because the Republican leader could not control its board of directors. By that act New York was deprived of the benefit of the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars within its borders. By that act the interests of every wage earner, every merchant, every farmer, every manufacturer, every householder, every railroad and transportation company were cruelly sacrificed. The people will not forget that the most conspicuous agent in this partisan crime is now the candidate of his party for governor. Against that record of misrepresentation and betrayal the Democratic party most earnestly protests.

We affirm the principles and pledges contained in our state platforms of 1889 and preceding years. We oppose needless special legislation. We favor home rule for counties and municipalities.

We believe in low taxes and in economical administration. We demand a revision of the various statutes regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors and the enactment of a just, equitable and comprehensive excise law framed in accordance with existing public sentiment as repeatedly manifested. We believe that all excise revenues, whether called license fees or taxes, should belong to the treasuries of the localities under whose authority licenses are issued, to be applied in reducing the burden of local taxation.

We are opposed to all sumptuary legislation that needlessly interferes with the personal liberty or reasonable customs of the people. We favor the largest liberty for the individual citizen consistent with the public welfare. We demand an extension of electoral reform, with a view to preventing the profuse expenditure of money by candidates and political committees; but we resolutely oppose any effort to hamper or restrict the constitutional privileges of manhood suffrage.

Electoral Reform.

And we congratulate the people of the state that by the persistent efforts of a Democratic governor, sustained by Democrats in the legislature, in defense of this principle there has been at last wrested from a Republican legislature by force of public sentiment a genuine electoral reform law which guarantees an absolutely secret ballot, which prevents intimidation and corruption, which reserves for men the right to two hours on election day in which to vote without loss of pay for time consumed, which largely diminishes the opportunities of candidates to expend money illegitimately, which prescribes a careful system of registration of electors, which imposes heavy penalties for corrupt practices in elections, and which preserves inviolable to every citizen, however humble or unlettered he may be, the right to cast his ballot for whomsoever he may choose for any office within the gift of the people.

We favor the revision of the tax laws whereby personal and corporate property shall be made to bear its full and just burdens.

We favor a continuance of the policy which seeks to improve the canal system of the state and maintain its efficiency.

The Interests of Labor.

The interests of labor should be fostered by proper and necessary legislation. Honest workingmen and working women should be protected from competition with convict labor. The Republican party, having control of the legislature almost continuously for many years, has withheld the necessary legislation required to adequately accomplish such a purpose, and in this connection we denounce the failure of the Republican senate last winter to enact the so called Reilly bill desired by the workingmen, which had passed the Democratic assembly, and had for its object the further restriction of convict labor competition. We favor legislative provision for a proper exhibit from this state at the World's Columbian exposition, to be held in Chicago in 1893, and we especially commend the measure to secure that object which was passed by the Democratic assembly last spring, but which a Republican senate with surprising reluctance, after its successful efforts to locate the fair in Chicago, refused to enact. This country has always been the refuge of the oppressed from every land—exiles for conscience sake—and in the spirit of the founders of our government, we condemn the oppression and expatriation practiced by the Russian government upon its Jewish citizens, and we call upon our government in the interests of justice and humanity, by all just and proper means, to use its prompt and best efforts to bring about a cessation of those cruel persecutions in the dominions of the czar and insure to the oppressed equal rights.

Governor Hill Eulogized.

We heartily indorse the able and statesmanlike administration of Governor Hill during his seven years as chief executive of the state. He has resolutely maintained the principles of the Democratic party and has faithfully contended for the interests of the people. He has ably resisted the aggressions of the successive legislatures, whose object has been only partisan advantage, and he has been a firm and unrelenting foe to vicious and corrupt legislation. In his administration of state affairs he has received the intelligent and conscientious co-operationof his Democratic associates in the state departments. Their joint efforts have put the state practically out of debt and left a generous surplus in the treasury. Efficiency and economy have marked their official records. We respectfully submit that this faithful discharge of responsibility justifies a continuance of the trust imposed in the Democratic party, of which they have been true representatives.

Jones Will Fight Flower.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Lieutenant Governor Jones has furnished the following for the press: "Being requested by the press to announce my intentions relating to the nominations of the Saratoga convention I would say that my political action has always been controlled by my sense of duty as a citizen, never recognizing conflicting party obligations.

"Believing, in this instance, that not only have the interests of the people been sacrificed but the existence of the Democratic party jeopardized, for behind the nominations and in absolute control of the party are men whose every sentiment of patriotism is subject either to their personal ambition or their selfish greed, and the administration of public affairs is shaped to perpetuate their rule.

Temporary Defeat Preferable.

"So complete is the power of these men, and so dictatorial have they become, that members of the party are but serfs so far as political action is concerned. Continued subservience but makes the condition too degrading to be quietly borne by American citizens. There is but one way to dislodge these usurpers. The temporary defeat of the party will be harmless compared with the effects of their control.

"For the welfare of the state and in the interest of the Democratic party, to me my duty appears clear, which is to oppose the election of the nominee of the Saratoga convention to such an extent as may be within my power and in such manner as may seem best to accomplish that purpose.

"EDWARD F. JONES."

Mr. Jones declines to specify just what action he will take in the matter.

They Ratify the Ticket.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Republicans of this city held a meeting last night in Carnegie's new music hall and formally ratified the action of the Republican convention at Rochester. The hall was filled.

Mr. Fassett said there was nothing in the Democratic platform about Grover Cleveland. Tammany Hall never liked Grover Cleveland, nor anything about any soldiers or sailors in the platform at Saratoga, and yet Edward F. Jones was a soldier and a brave man in 1865.

Mr. Fassett did not believe that Governor Hill was defeated at Saratoga. If it were so, he said, then even Hillism wasn't bad enough for Tammany Hall, and they dared to put their foot on the neck of the young hero who led them to victory for nine years. If they did neglect him they were guilty of casting aside their political savior.

When reference was made to Blaine's reciprocity treaty the speaker was interrupted by wild cheers for Blaine. Mr. Fassett then proposed three cheers for President Harrison and Mr. Blaine, and they were given with a tiger.

Democrats at New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 23.—The Connecticut State Democratic club held its semi-annual banquet here last evening. Professor Simeon E. Baldwin, of the Yale Law school, presided.

The present condition of the state government was discussed, and the meeting was unanimous in urging that the Democratic state central committee should call a state convention of the party during the coming winter to make a declaration of principles.

Blaine May Not Run.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The Mail and Express' Washington special says that James G. Blaine will, soon after the first of the new year, notify his friends and admirers who are now urging his nomination for the presidency that under no circumstances could he accept such an honor, and that he is for the renomination and re-election of Benjamin Harrison. The situation as here given has been known to the president for some time.

Cleveland and Mills.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Mr. Mills' speech at Mansfield, O., in which he swept aside the silver question as one of no importance compared with the question of tariff taxation, has commanded a good deal of attention from the Washington politicians. They say the attitude of Mr. Mills indicates an alliance of the friends of Mills with the friends of Mr. Cleveland.

Brookfield Is Chairman.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the Republican state committee William Brookfield was chosen to succeed General Knapp as chairman of the Republican state committee and General Husted became chairman of the executive committee. James W. Wadsworth, of Geneseo, was elected treasurer.

Republican Clubs at Scranton.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 24.—The executive committee of the Pennsylvania League of Republican clubs set Tuesday afternoon and rejected the application of all clubs for membership which had not been in existence on July 16. This seems to indicate that Senator Robinson will be elected president of the club at the session.

A Local Fight at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 22.—There is a Democratic split in this city. Mayor Joseph Haynes, regular Democratic candidate for mayor, will be opposed by ex-Assemblyman J. Kalisch, who will be the Republican candidate. About 200 seceding Democrats are with him.

Offered the Nomination.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A correspondent of The Herald telegraphs from Albany that Lieutenant Governor Jones says he was offered the Democratic nomination for governor six months ago.

Ready for Business.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Republican state committee has established elaborate campaign headquarters at the Fifth Avenue hotel, and everything is ready for business.

M'CAMANT AND BARDSLEY.

No Mention of "Neckties and Handkerchiefs" in the Correspondence.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—District Attorney Graham has given out to the newspapers the much talked of correspondence between Auditor General McCamant and Cashier Livsey on the one side and John Bardsley on the other, which it is contended, only needed the corroborative evidence of Bardsley himself to enable Mr. Graham to frame a criminal indictment against Mr. McCamant.

The letters are, in general, an acknowledgment of favors much more valuable than any before referred to in print, and there is an entire lack of any mention of the "neckties and handkerchiefs" which Mr. McCamant testified Bardsley had bought for him and by which he explained his thanks to Bardsley for favors.

Governor Abbett at the Fair.

WAVERLY, N. J., Sept. 23.—A great throng of people attended the fair of the New Jersey Agricultural societies at Waverly yesterday. Entries numbered 2,500, or 900 more than were ever before exhibited at the state fair. Today the cottage of the State Woman's Christian Temperance union was dedicated and Governor Abbett and his staff visited the fair

Five Boomers Are Dead.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 23.—Two negroes killed in a fight at Langston, the shooting of a woman who attempted to cross the border before the allotted time and the drowning of two men in the Cimarron river were the principal events reported in the great rush for the Oklahoma lands. The population of Oklahoma increased 20,000 yesterday.

Allerton to Meet Nelson.

INDEPENDENCE, Ind., Sept 23.—One of the greatest races in the history of the trotting turf will occur here between Oct. 19 and Nov. 14. Nelson, 2:10; Allerton, 2:09¼, the greatest trotting stallions on earth, and Nancy Hanks, the wonderful Kentucky mare, will meet for a purse of $10,000 on the kite shaped track.

She Fell and Broke Her Neck.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Frank McCormick, aged twenty-five, the wife of a prominent merchant at Homer, while crossing the room stumbled and fell. Her head struck an open door, breaking her neck. She died instantly. A child which she was carrying was badly injured.

Ostrander Out on Bail.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Sept. 23.—James E. Ostrander, the defaulting bank treasurer, has been admitted to bail in the sum of $20,000. His wife, son-in-law, Egbert Kiersted, and nephew, Abram Hasbrouck, president of the Rondout National bank, are his sureties.

General Grubb's Marriage.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—General E. Burd Grubb, American minister to Spain, will be in London about the end of the week to marry Miss Violet Sepwith, of Cromwell road. The ceremony will occur Saturday.

$3000 A YEAR! I undertake to briefly teach any fairly intelligent person of either sex, who can read and write, and who, after instruction, will work industriously, how to earn Three Thousand Dollars a Year in their own localities, wherever they live. I will also furnish the situation or employment at which you can earn that amount. No money for me unless successful as above. Easily and quickly learned. I desire but one worker from each district or county. I have already taught and provided with employment a large number, who are making over $3000 a year each. It's NEW and SOLID. Full particulars FREE. Address at once, E. C. ALLEN, Box 420, Augusta, Maine.

Snug little fortunes have been made at work for us, by Anna Page, Austin, Texas, and Jno. Benn, Toledo, Ohio, to cite out. Others are doing as well. Why not you? Some earn over $500.00 a month. You can do the work and live at home, wherever you are. Even beginners are easily earning from $5 to $10 a day. All ages. We show you how and start you. Can work in spare time or all the time. Big money for workers. Failure unknown among them. NEW and wonderful. Particulars free. H. Hallett & Co., Box 880 Portland, Maine

MONEY can be earned at our NEW line of work, rapidly and honorably, by those of either sex, young or old, and in their own localities, wherever they live. Any one can do the work. Easy to learn. We furnish everything. We start you. No risk. You can devote your spare moments, or all your time to the work. This is an entirely new lead, and brings wonderful success to every worker. Beginners are earning from $25 to $50 per week and upwards, and more after a little experience. We can furnish you the employment and teach you FREE. No space to explain here. Full information FREE. You Do, Don't You?

You may write a million witty things
At the rate of one a minute,
But when a girl her album brings
And asks for something in it—
Some sentiment, no matter what—
A bit of brilliant verse—
You always write a mess of rot
As witty as a hearse.

This Beats Darwin.

"Do you believe man sprang from the ape?"

"No; but I believe woman springs from the mouse—in fact I've seen her do it."—Harper's Bazar.

Had Seen No Reason to Change.

Bullinch—Well, Wooden, old man, I hear you are married.

Wooden—Yes, been married six weeks.

Bullinch—Why, I always thought you were a perfect woman hater.

Wooden—I am.—Boston Courier.

"Go Away and Get a Record."

Jack (tenderly)—You are the only woman I ever loved, Mabel.

Mabel—Is that so (scornfully)? Pshaw! I thought you were a man of the world. We will consider the engagement broken, Jack.—Brooklyn Life.

His First Look at the New Fountain.

Uncle Zeb (very near sighted)—That's th' dog gumbdest kind 'r hoss ever I see!

The Parson Wanted Him.

"You may have your gun about you,
But I'll come by the evenin' boat,
To knock the devil out you,"
The old subscriber wrote.

But the editor's head was level—
He wrote—and the thing was so—
"My mother-in-law knocked the devil
Out of me years ago!

"But I showed your note to the preacher,
And he sends this word: 'Come on!'
He has fifty men in his church, sir,
That he wants you to work upon!"
—Atlanta Constitution.

A Little Too English.

Young Wife (anxious to make some expensive purchases)—My dear—ahem!—I presume you know everything English is fashionable now.

Husband—So I have heard.

"Yes. All the ladies in my set are copying English customs. It's the fashion, you know, and of course you wouldn't want your little wife to be regarded as an exception."

"Of course not. By the way, I saw in the paper the other day that all the English princesses are good cooks."

Subject dropped.—New York Weekly.

Radical Measures.

Ross—What's become of that stenographer you had awhile ago? I don't see her in your office now.

Foss—No.

Ross—You used to think you couldn't get along without her. Did somebody hire her away from you?

Foss—No, but they kept trying to, and it made me so much trouble that I had to take radical measures right away.

Ross—And so yo let her go?

Foss—No, I married her.—Somerville Journal.

Not So Silent.

A drummer in a Grand Rapids merchant's store was making some inquiries about his business.

"You run the establishment alone, I notice," he began.

"Yep."

"Anybody in with you?"

"Yep."

"His name doesn't appear on your sign."

"Nope."

"Ah! A silent partner?"

"Not much! It's my wife."

Unanswerable.

"Jones, you'd better join our cooperative life insurance company before that cough of yours gets any worse."

"I'd like to do it, Ferguson, but I don't believe I would pass the medical examination."

"That's all right. I'm on the examining board. I can get you in."

"Then I won't join it, Ferguson. I don't want to have anything to do with a company that would take a risk on me."—Chicago Tribune.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

St. Vitus Dance Cured! VIII.

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., February, 1889.

My boy, 13 years old, was so affected by St. Vitus Dance that he could not go to school for two years. Two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic restored his health, and he is now attending school again. MICHAEL O'CONNEL.

BALTIMORE, June, 1890.

I used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for nervous trouble caused by overwork, and found it all that it is claimed to be. After using one bottle it had the desired effect, and I can truly recommend it to all suffering a like complaint, as a really wonderful remedy. SAML. THREW.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 19, '90.

For seven years my eldest daughter had fainting spells and spasms. Last June she took the first of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic, and since that time they have entirely ceased. JOHN GLOECKNER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BELVERNON, Pa., Nov. 27, '90.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Gents—I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it is a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three legs for three years when I commenced to use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, WM. A. CURL.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1889.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago I had a valuable young horse become very lame, hock enlarged and swollen. The horsemen about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became about useless, and I considered him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was satisfied that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the team doing heavy work all the season since last April, showing no more signs of it. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours,

EUGENE DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors.

COME TO STAY.

Yes, indeed, when a foreigner comes to this land he usually comes to stay. He finds we have the best government, the best people, and, in fact, the best of everything.

Strangers are constantly coming to our city and to our store. They'll receive good treatment. Those who want Bread, Cakes or Confectionery, get the best that can be found, at fair prices. Old customers make new ones, and we find all COME TO STAY. We hope you'll try it. See if you don't, too.

E. JACOBS & SON,

Bakers and M'f'g Confectioners.

NO. 130 WEST MAIN STREET.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 12. J. C. Brader will sell valuable personal property on premises at West Nanticoke. Sale will begin at 10 o'clock a. m. All the latest improved farming implements will be sold, also 6 head of horses, 2 cows, hogs, &c.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For Sale by C. A. Kleim.

Do you contemplate having a suit made? If you are, go to a practical man, where you can see the goods in the piece. Do not buy from samples as all goods look different in the piece. A fine line of goods for suits, spring overcoats and pantaloons, cut to your measure, made on our own premises, under the personal supervision of J. R. Townsend, at D. LOWENBERG'S.

Now is the time to begin advertising for the fall trade. Get the rates of THE COLUMBIAN.

Agreeable.

To the taste is Manners' Double Extract for the blood. Its action its on the bowels excels all others of or kind, as it contains no mercury uppaloes. Once tried and it can always be relied upon. Manners' Double Extract Sarsaparilla can be found at all drug stores. Price 50c a bottle. Sold at Moyer Bros., Drug Store.

To Our Subscribers.

The special announcement which appeared in our columns some time since, announcing a special arrangement with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., of Enosbrugh Falls, Vt., publishers of "A treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," whereby our subscribers were enabled to obtain a copy of that valuable work FREE by sending their address to B. J. Kendall Co. (and enclosing a two cent stamp for mailing same) is renewed for a limited period. We trust all will avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining this valuable work. To every lover of the horse it is indispensible, as it treats in a simple manner all the diseases which afflict this noble animal. Its phenomenal sale throughout the United States and Canada, make it standard authority. Mention this paper when sending for "Treatise" and send direct to Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., as above. 7-24 11-t.

SAFE-DEPOSIT BOXES.

The vault of the Farmers National Bank contains fifty lock boxes, which are for rent at prices ranging from $3.00 to $6.00 a year. There are two keys to each box, one of which is left at the bank and one is carried by the owner of the box. Neither can open the box until the other is inserted. More than half have already been rented. tf.

For Rent.

After September 1st, a six room house on 4th street between Centre and Iron streets. Lots of fruit. Inquire of H. H. GROTZ.
Bloomsburg. 8-28 tf.

DEAD.—Near Mifflinville, Pa. September 19, 1891. Clyde Layfeile, infant son of Edmund Smith and wife, aged 7 years.

MARRIED.—On the 8 inst at the Reformed parsonage in Orangeville by Rev. A. Houtz. Mr. Jessie B. Freas and Miss Belle Coleman, both of Orangeville.

WALLER.

Mr. Robbins of Orangeville has started a singing school at this place which promises to be well attended.

The farmers are getting along pretty fast now with their fall work, as we have been having very fine weather.

Miss Albertson and Messrs. Thomas, Lutz and Butt will take charge of the schools in this township on October 5th.

The corn has ripened very fast in the warm sun of the last few days.

Samuel Roberts is building a large underground room in which to store his apples. He will have perhaps over a thousand bnshels of winter apples.

Rev. William Stricklane of Mifflinburgh, N. Y. has been preaching at this place several times during the past week. He is an entire stranger here, and does not expect to stay but a few days. His sermons have been well received and are filled with passages of Scripture which he quotes as if he had nearly the whole bible committed to memory.

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicines. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

A TANGIBLE EXPRESSION OF RESPECT.

On Tuesday evening September 15, a party of the citizens of Jerseytown and immediate neighborhood, some forty in number, visited the Reformed Parsonage in Jerseytown, to express their regards to the Rev. W. G. Engle and family. It was in the form of a sociable and what was realized, which was a handsome sum, was presented to the pastor's wife.

After partaking of the refreshments and spending a few hours in social chat—engaging in vocal and instrumental music, Rev. Decker of the M. E. Church addressed the company in behalf of Rev. Engle who was absent at the time, which he and the visitors regretted. The happy recipients will ever remember the pleasant occasion and herewith acknowledge the kindness.

Condition vs. Theory.

Those who are in ill-health are confronted by a condition, not a theory, although there are numbers of people ready and anxious to theorize about it. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred S. S. S. will do the work of renovation. In cases of indigestion, loss of appetite and general debility, this wonderful medicine acts with almost miraculous certainty. It restores the activity of the liver, purifies the blood and builds up the system. As a tonic for young and old it is without a rival. Though it is powerful in its effects, the youngest or the oldest can take it with the most beneficial effects. S. S. S. has behind it a record of half a century, and is more popular as a household remedy to-day than ever before.

The 24th Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pennsylvania will be held at Franklin, Venango Co., Pa. October 8th to 11th inclusive. The fare willl be the same as heretofore, a fare and a third, making the fare for the round trip about $11. The State Committee have made every effort to make this the largest convention in its history. The Association at Franklin has sent out a hearty invitation to all the asssociaiions of the state, and will entertain all delegates free of charge. This will make a very pleasant trip at this time of the year. Members intending to go will please notify the General Secretary, as soon as possible so that their names can be forwarded to Franklin and entertainment secured for them

The Best workers in the state will be in attendance

J. G. Wells' optical exhibit at the fair will be in charge of Mr. W. H. Sears, who is well known.

Mr. Sears is an expert optician, whose work in the Western part of the State, is winning him an enviable reputation. Don't miss this opportunity to have your eyes properly fitted with glasses. 6t.

CENTRALIA SCHOOL BOARD.

At a special session of court on Saturday, the 19th inst. a petition was presented asking for the removal of the members of the school board of Centralia borough for failure to supply a sufficient number of teachers and the appointment of others in their stead. A rule was granted to show cause why the petition should not be allowed, returnable September 24th. This case is similar to that of Bloomsburg school board, where the court removed the directors, and its action was very emphatically sustained by the Supreme Court.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

There was a pleasant gathering at the home of H. R. Grimes, Montour township, on Monday evening September 14th, in honor of Mrs. Grimes' fiftieth birthday.

Friends were present from Light Street, Millville, Nescopeck, Catawissa and vicinity to the number of about eighty, and the evening was one long to be remembered.

MAINVILLE.

Harman & Hassert's steam whistle is distinctly audible at this place.

B. R. Yetter had a busy summer of it, having as high as forty boarders at his hotel part of the time.

The old forge property here has gone to decay, but the dam and race are still in good condition, and afford a splendid water power. It would be a good site for a mill.

U. J. Campbell was busy threshing this week.

A. W. Shuman at the upper hotel, keeps a good house. He is also collector of the township.

After a sea diet, to prevent boils and assist acclimation, use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Children's day will be celebrated in the Reformed church on next Sunday. Two very attractive programmes have been prepared for the occasion. The one to be rendered in the morning and the other in the evening. The church will be profusely decorated in plants flowers &c. The public is invited.

IT PAYS

To be cautious in the choice of medicines. Many are injured by trying experiments with compounds purporting to be blood-purifiers, the principal recommendation of which would seem to be their "cheapness." Being made up of worthless, though not always harmless, ingredients, they may well be "cheap;" but, in the end, they are dear. The most reliable medicines are costly, and can be retailed at moderate prices, only when the manufacturing chemist handles the raw materials in large quantities. It is economy, therefore,

To Use

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the valuable components of which are imported, wholesale, by the J. C. Ayer Co. from the regions where these articles are richest in medicinal properties.

"It is a wonder to me that any other than Ayer's Sarsaparilla has a show in the market. If people consulted their own interest, they would never use any other; for it is not only the best, but, on account of its concentrated strength and purity, it is the most economical."—James F. Duffy, Druggist, Washington st., Providence, R. I.

Dr. A. L. Almond, Druggist, Liberty, Va., writes: "Leading physicians in this city prescribe Sarsaparilla. I have sold it for eighteen years, and have the highest regard for its healing qualities."

Ayer's

"Although the formula is known to the trade, there can be no successful imitation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Without having the enormous facilities of the J. C. Ayer Co., it is impossible for other parties to put together such valuable ingredients, at the low cost of Ayer's

Sarsaparilla

It stands at the head of all similar preparations."—Mark A. Jones, 50 years a druggist, 60 Cambridge st., E. Cambridge, Mass.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

MILL AND CENTRE STREETS.

The largest and busiest place for trading in all kinds of first-class reliable Merchandise.

The teams have been taxed to their utmost for the past week bringing to us cases upon cases of new goods for the coming season. We can safely say we are showing the Largest and Grandest collection of new goods—Dress Goods, Coats, Etc., which dwellers in and about Danville have ever had the privilege to behold.

A most important matter in connection with this great showing of new goods is that the prices at the "People's Store" are no higher than those of New York or Phila. markets.

Courteous salespeople await your wishes, and intelligent information will cheerfully be given.
